Big Name Entertainers Featured In Spring Concerts

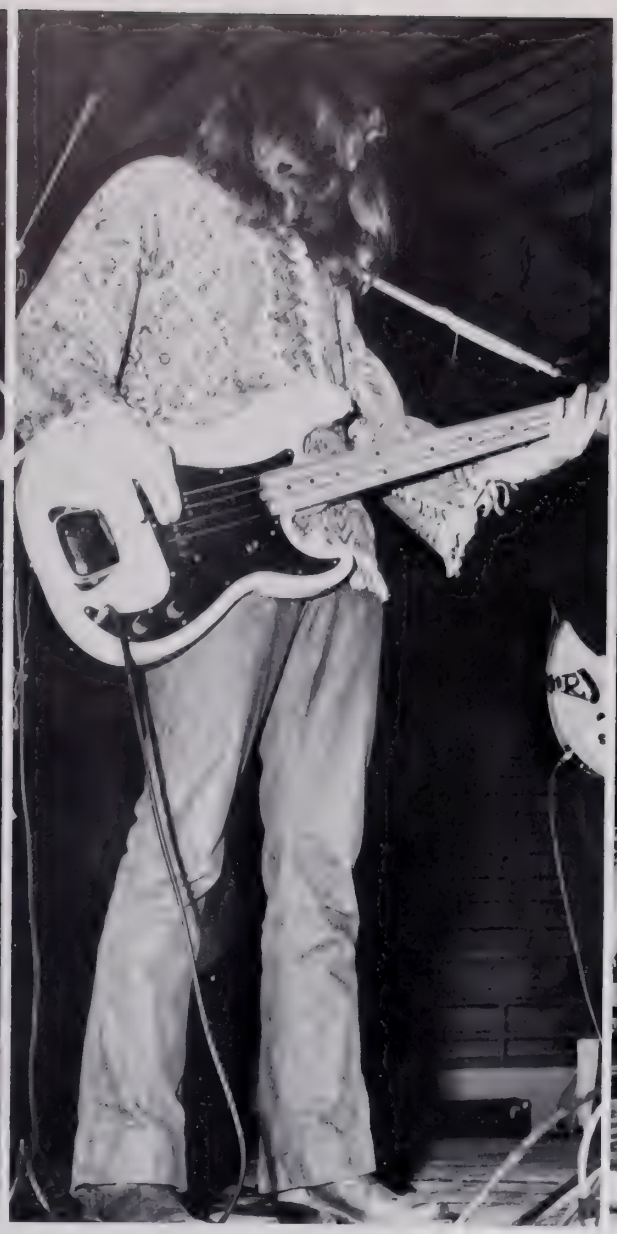

It was the Spring and students were anxious to hear the big name entertainers they had paid to see. First came Michael Nesmith and Linda Ronstadt. With his singing and picking and playing and joke-telling, Michael Nesmith had everyone listening and applauding and pleading for more. Then the star of the concert, Linda Ronstadt came on and everyone began to leave. It's not that she didn't sing great, because she does, it's just what she said and the way that she said it that turned everyone away.

The second big Blackham Coliseum concert featured the Byrds. They played a little bit of everything — oldies, hard rock, rock and roll, and country. It was what USL students like and it was professional — a great combination.

Art Students Came Out Of Hiding For Spring Art Fiesta

Everyone (except art students, of course) would walk past Brown-Ayres dodging bicycles and trying to sneak a glance of the freaky art students at work. Unless you were lucky, you never saw one unless he was carrying a huge canvas or tremendous sculpture into the mystical building. And then you only saw his feet or the very top of his head and eight fingers

But then, one day in the Spring, the art students came out of their building for an Art Fiesta to display and sell some of their creations. The artwork was really good, but it was being shown off by regular students. So what happened to the freaky, creative art students? Another fantasy down the drain.

Student Talent Uncovered

Once again Angel Flight had no trouble in finding talented students to provide original songs, dances, skits, and musical arrangements for a night of entertainment. Some did it for the pleasure of competition and some just for the fun of it. Leslie Waguespack and Rose Hoffman took first and second in individual acts with Alpha Kappa Alpha and Greg Nothacker, Ray Allain, and Richard Evans taking home the trophies for group competition. It's amazing what you can uncover in ordinary students.

Graffiti On Union Walls Caused Summer Controversy

Crayons, rolls of paper, and an empty art gallery were combined by the Union to create a graffiti room for summer students to express themselves. Students drew on it, wrote love notes on it and poetry and political commentary and a few obscenities. Many over-30 people roamed through the Union, saw the students' exhibit in the students' Union, were disgusted by it, and complained about it. Then the Dean of Student Services closed it and opened the biggest controversy in the summer — "student" Union? Students contended that the graffiti was all in fun in a building paid for by students and run by students. The opposition felt that it was in bad taste and bad for public relations. Debates went on, but the room remained closed — another point for censorship.

A Little Bit Of Everything Provided By The Union

For guitar enthusiasts, the Entertainment Committee presented Doc Watson and his son Merle. About 500 people attended their concert and stayed until the last standing ovation. The speed and ability of their picking was something that every degree guitar player could marvel over.

Leonard Weinglass, defending attorney for the Chicago 7, was scheduled by the Speakers Committee. He spoke about civil rights, student protests, communist protests — some historic and some recent. He questioned FBI activities logically enough to make us accept him and doubt them.

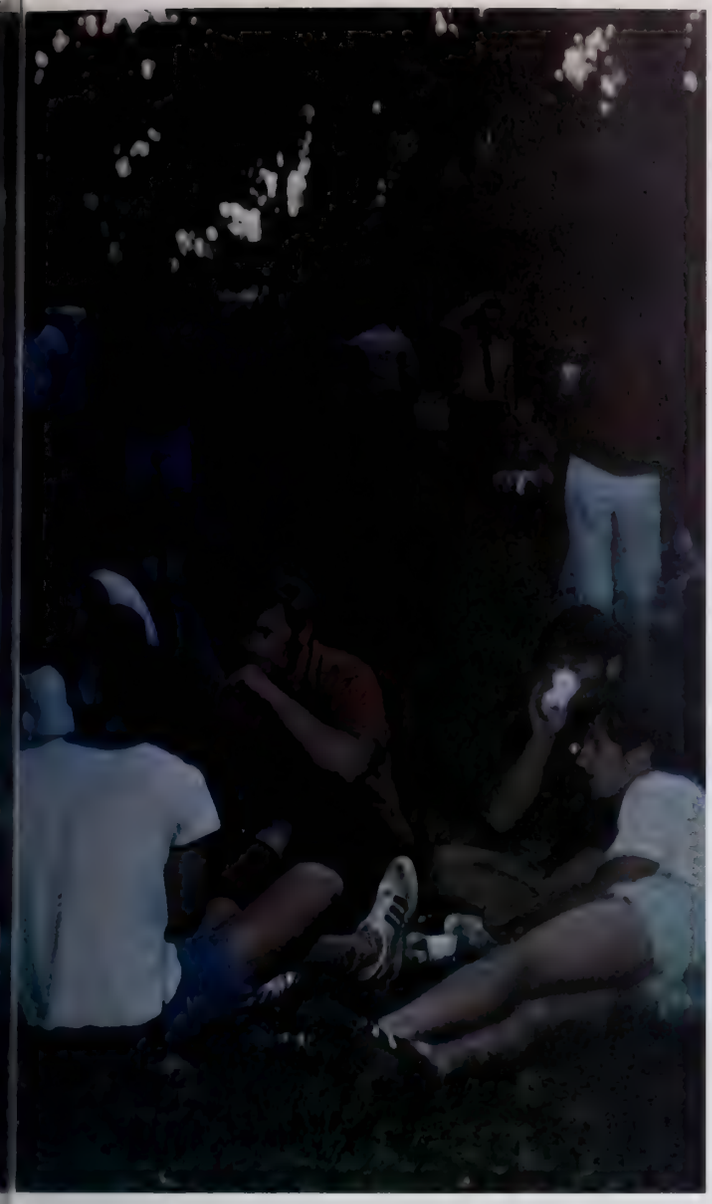

Not to be outdone by male guests, the Association of Women Students presented a woman speaker, Betty Friedan, as a highlight for Women's Week. She talked about the recent snowballing women's lib movement.

The Greatest Crawfish Boil Ever Could Only Happen Here

The greatest crawfish boil ever — only in the South. To cool Spring fever, Catering Management, Inc. moved meal ticket holders out of the cafeterias and into the park for a sitting-on-the-ground, beer-drinking, crawfish-peeling supper. Over 1000 students consumed 10,000 pounds of crawfish and 100 kegs of beer. For those students who had never seen a crawfish before, it was quite an experience. For the rest of us, it was a delicious treat.

Jean-Clad Girls Transformed

At a time when everyone is wearing old jeans and mamas are blaming college for making their daughters look less like ladies, who would think that one hundred girls would pay to attend a Fashion Fair? The Hospitality Committee sponsored it, Neiman-Marcus presented it, and USL girls benefited from it. Two Neiman-Marcus representatives demonstrated modeling, poise, make-up, and fashion coordination. At the end of the day Marnselles were selected as USL's modeling squad. To show off what they had learned, the Marnselles presented their annual spring style show, "Everybody is a Star," a month later.

Also in the spring was a hair styling clinic presented by local hair stylists, Richard and Doris. Their program was one part of AWS's Women's Week.

Tradition Again Dictated Graduation In May

Tradition is the balance of life. What would Christmas be without Santa or cartoons without Mickey Mouse or graduation without caps and gowns. Ah . . . maybe a delightful experience for seniors. But tradition remained despite efforts and appeals and general disinterest. 1504 graduating seniors from August, December, and May were once again capped and gowned and herded into Blackham Coliseum for their compulsory May graduation ceremony. Governor Edwards, President Rougeou, School Board President Michot spoke to a full house of mamas and papas and relatives and graduates prior to the mass conferring of degrees. Despite the efforts of tradition advocates, formal graduation was still, to most, more trouble than it was worth.

Summer Students Treated To A Watermelon Afternoon

Way down South here at USL in the summertime, when it gets so hot the mosquitoes don't even enjoy eating, is the best time to crack open an ice cold watermelon and sit by the lake eatin' and spittin'. USL Union took advantage of this old-time Southern tradition to treat summer school students to a watermelon party complete with a number-of-seeds-in-a-melon guessing contest, distance seed-spittin' contest, and accuracy seed-spittin' contest. To complete the afternoon in true Union style of thoroughness, was a scheduling of the movie — you guessed it — Watermelon Man.

Right: After a watermelon feast, students participated in the seed-spittin' contest. Below right: Officiating the spitting contests was Rod Chassot. Below: Summer school students enjoyed the afternoon of free watermelon. Far below: Nancy Fuselier, Annette Blum, Jimmy Cheramie, Clo Kempt, and Carmen Perret helped with the slicing and serving.

Never Two Without Three

The first campus fire was only a small one during the spring in one of the architecture buildings. Then in the summer fire raged through Brown Ayres leaving a cavity where the art students used to reside. The third was the smallest of all in the top floor of Denbo dormitory. It was the least exciting, only big enough to require actual need for all of those odd-hour fire drills and to add a little more excitement to Homecoming week.

Circle K Summoned Freshmen To Appear In Kangaroo Kourt

During the week of freshman elections many dastardly crimes were committed. To protect society from these young criminals, Circle K summoned thirty freshmen to appear before Kangaroo Kourt, be accused, and justly tried. Through the infinite wisdom and power of the judges and jury, all were found guilty and forced to pay their debt to society.

Osibisa Made The People Get Into Their Music

A vibrating concert was started by Black Blood and the Chocolate Pickles then picked up and amplified by Osibisa. They made the audience come to life which is not easy to do to an audience of USL students. But they managed to get people into their feeling for their music.

Mike Williams And Colours Opened Hartford Concert

The end of September found John Hartford at Municipal Auditorium. This composer — singer — musician easily won over the audience with his guitar, fiddle, and banjo and his quiet type music. Opening his concert was a Texas group, Mike Williams and Colours, who almost stole the show with their humor and music. To give the students more of what they liked, Mike Williams and Colours played two nights in the Union ballroom.

X-Lt. Col. Herbert And Dick Gregory Had A Message To Deliver

Ex-Lieutenant Colonel Anthony P. Herbert had super short hair and wore a coat and skinny tie, but he said what we felt. He spoke with intelligence that we forget people over thirty possess. When he told of the cruelties of war and the injustices of the service we felt it. He was anti-Nixon and anti-army, but not unjustly or disrespectfully. Maybe that's why we listened when he spoke.

The next month another human rights activist was invited to speak to a large crowd of students. Dick Gregory used to spend his time as a comedian, now he spends it on college campuses. He believes in youth as the power to change the nation. He, too, was anti-Nixon and anti-war, with faith in the future. How can you help but believe in a man who believes so strongly in you?

Homecoming — A 'Bon Temps' For Students

Homecoming — the biggest event in the fall semester. For most students it's a busy week of preparation and decoration for the pep rally, the parade, the bonfire, the huge displays, the game, and the after-game parties. To add to the festivities this year, there was even a street carnival in the Union parking lot on Friday, with rides, games, and cotton candy. It's a "bon temps" for most, but for some Homecoming is the epitome of student hypocrisy since it's a once-during-the-season show of spirit brought on by the gleam of trophies. Well, there will always be tradition and there will always be those who knock it.

ROUND-UP

Diana Represented State In Miss Black America Pageant

Diana Donnell, USL student and cheerleader, represented Louisiana in the Miss Black America pageant in Hollywood, California. As Miss Black Louisiana, Diana competed with girls from 35 other states for the title of Miss Black America. Diana sang "Didn't We" for the talent competition. When she returned to USL she was honored with a reception sponsored by the Black Culture Association and the city, represented by Mayor Kenny Bowen. As Miss Black Louisiana, Diana made appearances at other state universities. Her experiences made her realize the potential black people have in America and that they should push to reach the level equal to their productivity. She summed up her feelings this way, "I am so happy to be black and to see so much to be proud of."

Students Attempted To Clean Up The Campus

It seems like wherever there are Americans, there also is litter. Thank goodness there are also a few people trying to clean up the litter. A very few summer students and a troop of Boy Scouts worked to clean up Cypress Lake. Groups tried to attack the problem by organizing small-scale clean-up days. SGA made two futile attempts to have students participate in a campus-wide litter rally. Rain disrupted the first rally so a second was organized using a beer bust with the entrance fee being a bag of litter as bait. The most reliable method to persuade USL students to participate in an event and it failed. Maybe we just don't care any more.

Guess Who Appeared In Fall Semester Concert

A concert that started off all wrong with the sound equipment arriving three hours late and the crowd being held outside until it became a shoving crowd of insulted students. David Bromberg started off the show, not to the pleasure of some. Students embarrassed students with their rudeness toward the artist. After David Bromberg made a hasty exit, the Guess Who came on stage with music that seemed to please the people more. It was not the best concert USL has ever had because the audience was not the best audience USL has ever had.

USL Skiers Hit The Slopes

It's funny to think that USL students who never see snow would travel by bus for hours to participate in a sport unnatural to Cajun webbed feet. Each year, though, more students take advantage of the Union-sponsored ski trip. During this semester break, three busses transported almost one hundred students to Crested Butte, Colorado for a week of learning, and skiing and playing. Some were veterans from a past trip so skiied every day and some tried it out but decided instead to stick to checking out the area and playing in the snow, but everybody loved it.

Holidays Extended For Visit From J. Frost

What's better than a hurricane for cancelling classes? Snow in Louisiana in January and again in February! Absolutely unheard of, yet it happened on the Thursday of registration week causing the Spring semester to begin a day later. Stores and offices and schools closed to prevent Cajun cars from skidding along the streets and because no one able to see or feel could be kept inside. It was an experience for little kids who had only seen snow in books and for us big kids who were not quite sure how to pack a snowball or how to run without slipping. For the first time since we were in grammar school, it snowed throughout the afternoon and the snow stayed on the ground. It was even waiting for us on Friday morning just so that we could be certain it was real. By far, Jack Frost was the most welcomed visitor on campus. We'll be talking about it for years.

So This Is What We Pay For

To think that we pay to sit through a boring lecture watching the clock or comparing doodles or writing letters and occasionally taking a note just in case we wanted to study our notes before a test. And that we hoard our three allowed cuts the way a miser might hoard his gold pieces for that special day when something more important than going to class comes along — like sitting in the sun or drinking a cup of coffee or watching a soap opera. Then finals come along and we pray that learning through osmosis can pull us through just one more semester, for next semester we'll really crack down and hit the books until that first boring lecture.

How To Waste An Hour Break

O.K., you got those hour breaks that you scheduled between classes to do all of those things that you just never have a chance to do at night. The perfect time to do your laundry, or catch up on assignments, or read a bad book, or stimulate your intellect with checkers. So many possibilities — so why do you usually end up taking a quick nap or just sitting and rapping?

No Longer Must We Fight For Peace

The war for us is over. The Vietnam War that we marched against, spoke out against, fought in, died in, has finally ended for the United States. On January 27, only a few days after his re-election, President Nixon announced that American troops were to return home, prisoners of war were to be released, and a volunteer army would replace the draft. That Saturday was not a day of wild jubilation and parades of veterans and bands playing. We were glad that no more of our friends would get killed and that everyone could come home, but how could we get excited over a war that we hated and were forced to fight in and was not even officially declared a war for America. That one is over, now it is up to us to prevent another.

God help us that we can keep what we've been crying for . . .

peace.

Miss America-Type Pageant Held To Find Miss University

To update the old way of selecting Miss University by popularity vote, the Union sponsored a Miss America type pageant. After hours of instructions and rehearsals, the thirteen contestants performed with songs, dances, acrobatics and speeches before five judges and a full audience of students. After the girls changed into formals, five semi-finalists were announced and asked to answer questions. Then Bridget Parsley, Miss Congeneality, the USL beauties, first runner up, and Jean Wilson, Miss University were announced. The next night Jean was presented at the Miss University dance.

Our Campus As We See It

You know, it's not such a bad campus even though we do have to look at it every day. It is sort of special with its Stephen's steeple and the constantly muddy quadrangle and that lake that formed where Brown Ayres used to be and that funny fountain that never spurts water and those majestic oak trees that line the sidewalks and shade the sun. New buildings are always springing up and strange people are always filling the spots that familiar people left but the campus will never really change.

How Can "They" Say That We're Strange?

"They" say we're a bit strange; I can't imagine why. Just because we like to laugh and know how to have a really good time. "They" say we can't face life the way it is. Is it so bad to think we have a good life and then turn it into one? "They" say we're a bit strange, but can't they see that "they" were once the "We"? What right have "they" to say that we're a bit strange?

Favorites Were Finally Selected

After a bit of a hassle, five girls were selected as Favorites. The pupular election was originally scheduled as a part of the Miss University activities with the results to be announced at the Miss University dance. Due to irregularity of picture sizes and upset contestants, the voting had to be cancelled. Contest rules were restated, voting rescheduled, and a dance planned for the following Friday. A history making snowfall prevented the voting, but the dance went on. The machines were ready, so voting was held the next class day even though few people knew about it. A third dance could not be arranged, so the Favorites were announced quietly. The glory was absent from the announcing, but there was still honor for the five girls elected as Favorites.

USL Backpackers Invaded Europe

It used to be that every American in Europe was from New York or California. The Union Tours and Travels committee chartered a flight and encouraged USL students and faculty to join the American backpackers in Europe. You could hop a ride on the chartered flight to Europe and be returned to the States two months later. For two months you were on your own to live in pensions or hostels or fancy hotels and to travel by plane, train, rented car, or hitchhike. It was just enough time to visit the most famous spots like the Hofbrauhaus in Munich or the Louvre or Tower of London and fall completely in love with Europe.

Calm Prevailed Over USL

No major rallies, no one fighting for or against anything, no hassles, no issues, there were not even any big parties. Our time was filled with events that could have happened any day — frat or Union dances, small dorm parties, movies, sports, packing up to go home, drinking, smoking, studying, playing. It may be the quiet before the storm or it may be that we really are the peace loving generation. We just want to live and be free and do as we please with no hassles, no commitments.

It's Faces That Tell The Story

Without the people, there would not be a university. It's the faces that make this year different from the last. The goofy faces, the serious faces, the searching faces, the hurt faces and the mood behind the expressions, the idea behind the faces — these are what count. Each year there is a new look, a new feeling. We may forget the classes, the happenings, the language, the places, but never the faces.

)orm Life Was A Worthwhile Experience

Living in a dorm is an experience that every young man and woman should go through. The USL dormitory system brings together 2650 students each semester from towns like Opelousas, Louisiana to Hong Kong, China.

Although the dormies two biggest gripes are lack of sleep, no privacy and the constant noise, most dorm dwellers seem to agree that the experience is worthwhile; that is for a limited length of time. For after one has adjusted to the hassles of dorm life, it's not hard to say "this is my home away from home."

Cafeterias Served 2650 Dorm Students Each Day

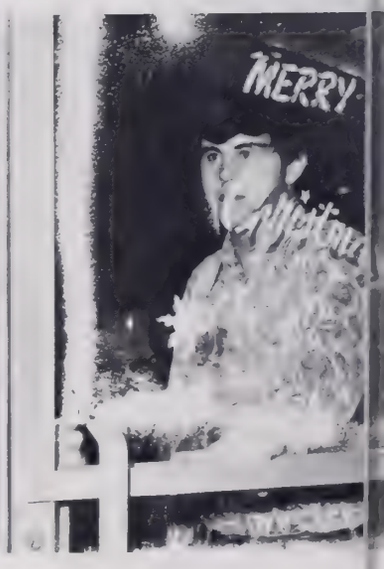

One of the major aspects of dorm life was the mealtime routine, hen every day hundreds of students stood in line waiting for reakfast, lunch, and dinner. Although the food was made in vast uantities, both cafeterias did an adequate job of preparing meals r the dorm students. Catering Management handled all the eals under the direction of Mike Cowan, Martin Dining Hall and ohn Wallian, O.K. Allen Dining Hall.

College Of Argiculture Did Extensive Research

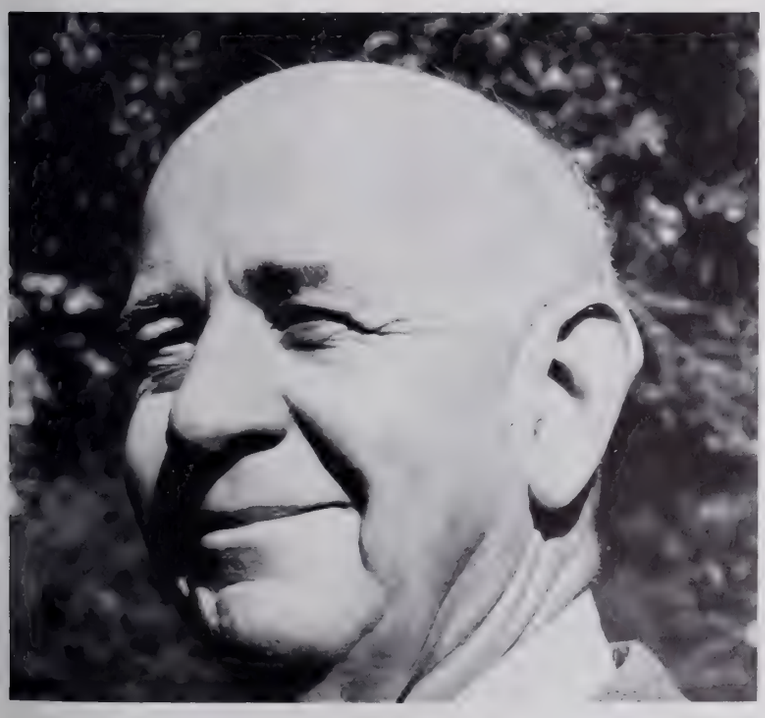

In the College of Agriculture, the departments of Plant Industry and General Agriculture conducted research projects on acquatic weed control. Horticulturists worked on evaluating energizer, which is an organic extract that has a hormone-like effect on plants. Ag Engineers did research on improving greenhouses by using a zone type of cooling. Vocational Agriculture majors were involved in a new program in which students worked in local vocational agriculture programs the semester before they student teach. Animal Husbandry worked in conjunction with J. B. Frey on research projects. In the School of Home Economics several new changes took place. Nutrition classes conducted experiments on the effects on rats fed with the Zen macrobiotic diet for the first time. The inclusion of a Child Development internship in the curriculum was worked on. Pattern Alteration classes began using the grain method of pattern alteration this year. Home Economics Education majors were trained for the first time in the Lafayette Parish Vocational Rehabilitation Program. Finally, four new faculty members were hired. These were Dr. Jeanne Mack, Dr. Patricia Horridge, Yvonne Jackson, and Josephine Turner.

Commerce Majors Strove For Professionalism

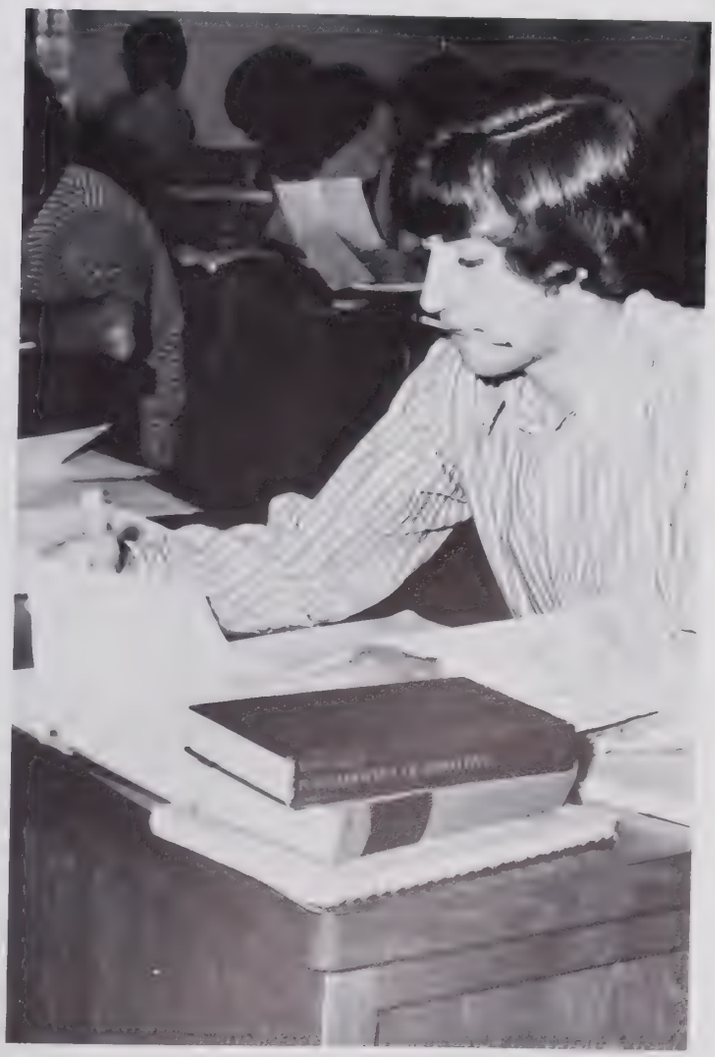

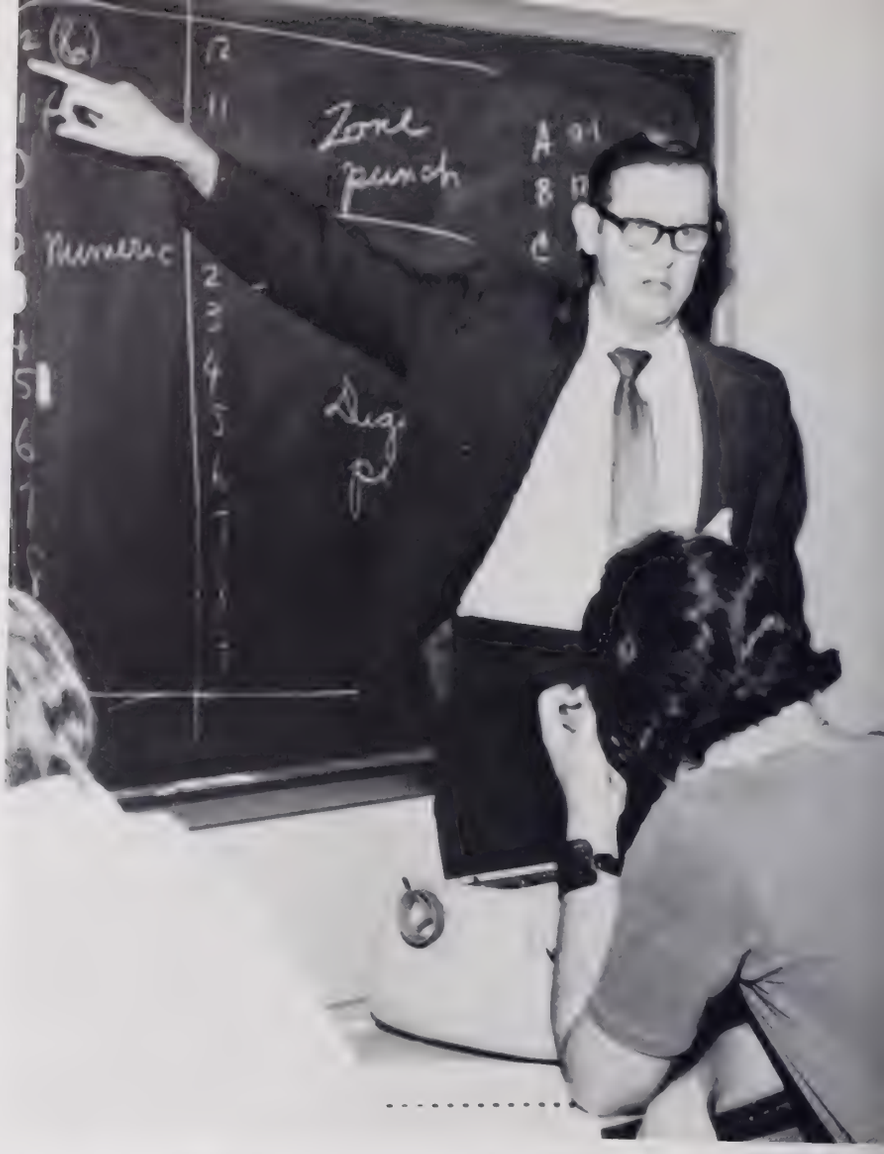

Several new courses were introduced into the College of Commerce this year. In the Department of Management new courses in Organizational Theory and Dynamics and in Business and Society were offered. Research was done to develop a course in the area of management of service industries. The Department of Marketing also offered a new course in Industrial Marketing. In October, a Latin American trade seminar was held. Enrollment in Accounting showed an increase for the fall semester. Recruitment of accounting majors also increased in the fall. More companies came to campus looking for qualified accountants and more jobs were offered. A Business Review course was offered through the University College as a community service for local people. Methods courses were instituted in Business Education which helped to certify students as coordinators of cooperative programs in office education and in distributive education.

College Of Education Emphasized Enjoyment As Well As Skill In Physical Education Courses

Extensive curriculum reform was planned for the College of Education. Changes involved the addition of field experience, the elimination of irrelevant courses and the introduction of new courses by the curriculum study committees composed of faculty members and students. According to Dr. Louis Coussan, Dean of the College of Education, beginning with the Freshman year of study, students will be directly involved in the school systems. The reform eliminated three courses whose particular content was not relevant to the overall curriculum. Some courses were also designed to include team teaching. In the Department of Health and Physical Education, importance was placed on the physiology of exercise. Scientific studies were conducted. More emphasis and interest were placed on the lifetime sports such as bowling, golf and swimming, than in the past.

Student Teaching Proved To Be The Climax Of All Education Curriculums

A new concept of teaching was introduced. Reading was taught on the elementary and secondary levels by five new instructors, all of whom had a doctorate in the field. For the graduate level, a new program leading to a Masters' in education and a minor in Early Childhood Education was introduced. This interdisciplinary program involved the cooperation of different fields such as Home Economics, Psychology, and Reading. Another graduate program was the inclusion of a minor in adult education. Dean Coussan pointed out that many people in Louisiana are presently working with and teaching adults but very few of these people are trained adequately.

Education Encouraged Diversity

Engineering Courses Were Consolidated

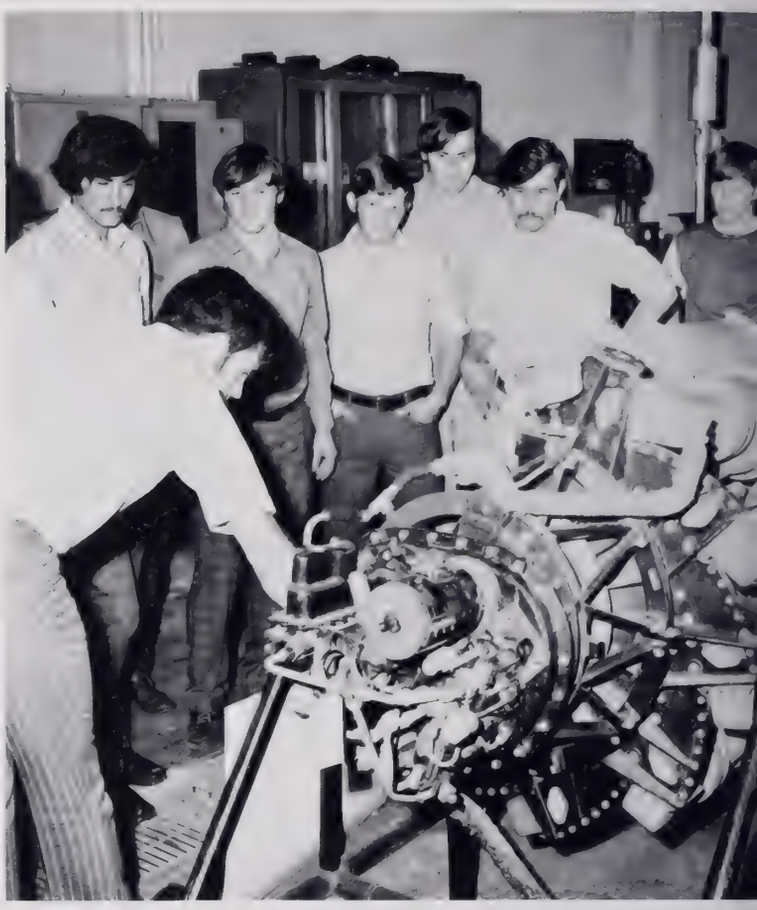

Left: Wendell Holman, Jim Rick, and Dennis Lafleur examined the Upside Down Drop Bridge built in the Civil Engineering Department. Below: Orlando Vegas and Don Cordell made preliminary calculations in order to set up a circuit to design an oscillator.

Courses and curricula in the College of Engineering were updated under the supervision of Dean James Reeves. A philosophy was adopted which consolidated similar courses into one course general enough to accomodate all interested departments. The Keller Method of teaching was used for the first time. This method allowed upper level students to assist voluntarily in teaching lower level courses. The course "Technology and Society" was also new. It represented the first time the College ever offered a course open to all students at USL. The course assessed contemporary technologies in terms of social and environmental consequences. Several departmental laboratories were also consolidated resulting in more and better equipment. Finally, the Engineering Graduate program was strengthened by replacing the five old graduate programs with two new interdisciplinary M.S. engineering programs: Engineering Management and Engineering Systems. This type of degree is more highly valued by most local industries than a technical masters' degree.

New Course In Technology And Society Was Offered

Liberal Arts Curriculum Was Broadened

The College of Liberal Arts underwent several major changes this year. Each of the departments examined their curricula and revised them. The Department of Speech had a very industrious year. KRVS undertook its most ambitious daily broadcasting schedule to date: a total of 116 hours per week with an 18-hour broadcast Monday through Friday. This was done to accomodate a record number of 90 broadcasters and 82 broadcast majors. The T.V. studio filmed a puppet show with the puppets representing the denizens of the Louisiana bayous who spoke in French and English to pre-level and elementary school children, who live in surrounding areas.

The Speech Department also acquired a Greyhound Remote bus. This allowed the basketball and baseball games to be broadcast through tape delays. A taped series of speeches in two sections of the Fundamentals of Speaking class were experimented with. The tapes were played back in the classes in the hope that the visual presentations would aid students in improving their oral presentations. In the Speech and Hearing Clinic, Dr. Jean Boudreaux organized a Language-Perceptual Motor Group for young children and a service in new methods of retraining language in post-stroke patients. Also, the USL Manual Communication Training for the deaf and hard of hearing was introduced. The Biology Department offered a new course in Man and His Environment. It included an analysis of the environment and man's position in it. The growth of world population was discussed. The Physics Department introduced two new courses opened to all students: Astronomy and Foundations of Physics. A new 8-inch reflecting telescope was purchased. Students were encouraged to drop by and join in observing the stars and planets.

Refinement Added To Liberal Arts By Music

The Department of Applied Arts improved and expanded its photography courses with new equipment, furnishings and more space. In addition to still photography the students worked with movies and completed several documentary films. Fine Arts introduced a new Media Workshop course which explored new media useful to artists as new means of plastic expression, such as light, sound, and film. Brown-Ayres, the building normally used for the Art and Architecture courses, burned during the summer session, so this year art and architecture courses were spread out through six different buildings. The State Board of Education sponsored competition for the design of new facilities to solve this problem. The Department of History offered new courses in Black History this year. A new three-part orientation program was started. The object was to consider in open discussion the significance of history in the college curriculum, the value of a Liberal Arts education and the expansion of avenues of communication between faculty and students. The department expanded their visual equipment by compiling a slide library of some 5000 items and by acquiring some 200 instructional films.

Todd Knox ran controls in Language Lab. Right, Charles Mayard worked on his project in Woodcutting Lab. Opposite page: Top, Sid Rials cleaned brushes during an Organic Lab experiment. Below, Lisa Cordell, Joy Dempsey, and Marion Gaudet practiced on Fiddles for the concert.

The Foreign Language Department initiated experimental sections in individualized instructions in Spanish and French. Dr. Joseph Puente offered the first in a series of new courses in Foreign Literatures in Translation. The new Foreign Language Center in Griffin Hall is one of the most elaborate facilities of its kind in the country. It includes both audio and television facilities for student use. The operation room provided for 48 different programs to be sent to any position in the lab. In the Political Science Department Courses in Politics in the Developing Areas highlighted the curriculum. Finally, Sociologists were able to study Physical Anthropology and the Sociology of Education for the first time.

Nursing Course Opened To Non-Majors

The College of Nursing instituted an entirely revamped major as of this fall. For the first time ever a nursing course was opened to non-majors as an elective. This was the Personal Health Maintenance Course. An independent nursing laboratory was established. It was intended first as an audio-visual lab and second as an area to be used by students who needed to review materials. It also allowed students who moved rapidly to have breadth and depth in areas the class didn't have time to cover. To keep nurses and practitioners up-to-date, workshops with no credit were offered as a special service to the community.

President Welcomed Visitors To Campus

Dr. Clyde L. Rougeou served as President of the University for 1972-1973. Dr. Rougeou welcomed many groups to campus including the Louisiana Financial Aid Association. He also attended the State Board of Education meetings, where a concurrent resolution was passed which would reduce the number of hours needed for a baccalaureate degree. Dr. Rougeou set up a committee to study this possibility.

Vice President Reviewed Needs

Dr. Ray Authement, Vice President of the University, engaged in developing a faculty work load and also an accreditation procedure. He reviewed all faculty and budgetary needs in view of the new 124-hours curriculum that will be introduced in 1973-1974. He served as Chairman of the Education section of the United Givers Fund and was also on the Lafayette Parish Drug Advisory Committee. He was on the Board of Directors of the Lafayette Chamber of Commerce and the Mayor's Downtown Development Committee

Whetstone, Richard D'Aquin, Harvey Peltier, and Charles Colbert.

Graduate School Enrollment Increased

The Graduate Student Council became very active this year in campus life. Massive efforts were made to improve graduate student standing at USL. More graduate students were admitted into USL's program this year than ever before.

John Groves worked on his masters thesis project in Microbiology.

University College Held Scuba Diving Courses

The University College under the direction of Mr. Paul Bercegay (at right) provided the business and professional communities with resources and facilities of USL at times that were suited to their needs. Several new courses were offered that were helpful to commerce majors. Of particular interest to many students was a scuba diving course that was offered through University College.

Dupré Library Was The Target Of Book Thieves

Our library continued to be the target for book thieves that it has always been. A guard was hired this year to cut down on the number of thefts by checking books at the exit. Though the guard may have reduced the ripping off of books, he didn't stop the ripping out of pages from books, or articles from magazines. Students who were either too broke or too lazy to make copies of an article merely settled for the original by tearing it out. Many professors were hesitant to assign an extensive research paper, and many students shuddered at the thought of writing one due to the state of our library. The frustration of finding the only source to document an assertion ripped out or off was overwhelming.

Above: Paula Calois worked on an assignment. Left: Mike Strown looked for the call number of a particular magazine he needed.

Student Services Provided For Students' Well Being

USL offered a variety of services to all students. Campus security issued parking tickets and had cars towed away. They kept the campus a fairly safe place to be. They also purchased a new engraving machine which was loaned to students free of charge in the hope of stopping theft of valuables, particularly in the dorms. Medical services were staffed with a full-time doctor and a nurse. The USL Bookstore provided students with both textbooks and supplementary items. The University maintained a U.S. Post office substation on campus. Rates for mail boxes went up to six dollars this year. Freshman Division provided new students with their first introduction to the campus through orientation. Housing Services were much stricter in enforcing the rule that all freshmen and sophomores live on campus. Finally, Kajun Kleaners provided washers, dryers, and dry cleaning services at a reduced cost for students.

New Personnel Dean Was Hired

Left: Judy Watson, a new dean of Student Personnel, was hired this year. Below: Allen St. Martin, Dean of Student Services, was on leave this year, although he returned in the spring semester. Not pictured is Edward Pratt, Dean of Student Personnel this year.

The Department of Student Personnel was presented with the task of maintaining University interests in relation to student actions and activities, and as such was the part of the administration in closest contact with the students. Dean McPhaul worked with Freshman students who were in poor academic standing and were in danger of academic suspension. Dean Blanco wrote the new Code of Student Conduct, which served to inform students of possible violations of University regulations. Dean Guillory was in charge of maintaining high school relations. He planned visitations and career days. In November, Dean Guillory left USL to assume a position with the State Department of Education in Baton Rouge. Dean Kleinpeter worked to raise the academic standing of fraternity members by encouraging quiet hours in fraternity houses.

Perhaps the main concern of the Department of Student Personnel was its interest in campus dormitory students. The department sought to keep dorm students as contented as possible in a situation which required all freshmen and sophomores to live on campus as well as purchase meal tickets. In October, those students not in compliance with the residence requirement were threatened with cancellation of their registration. This wholesale cancellation never materialized, ostensibly through SGA intervention.

L'Acadien Endured Trying And Controversial Semester

In April of this year, the University Communications Committee approved Michael Baham as editor of L'Acadien by a one-vote margin. With this narrow vote of confidence in his abilities behind him, he began to implement his ideas for change in June. Greeks became the first target. He insisted that portrait composites were out, and after much debate and argument in September, a compromise was reached and relative calm ensued. Student photographers were hired for the first time in September and their contributions added variety to the usual photographic style. Their presence allowed more time to be devoted to picture planning and photography and, as a result, many pictures were taken that would have been impossible in past years. Several of these pictures stirred up the December censorship controversy before the Communications Committee, as the question of control of editorial policy was raised. The ultimate decision in this dispute was to have definite implication for future policy as plans were being formulated at the year's end for a general reorganization.

KRVS Familiarizes All With Local And National News

The U.S.L. radio station, KRVS, covered all sports events this year, both home and away, broadcasted major news events three times a day and held Concert Hall, featuring classical music seven nights a week. The bulk of the station's broadcasted music was progressive rock, however, the proven favorite on campus. KRVS again won the United Press International Sportscasting Award for the sixth consecutive year. It was announced also that, in the spring of 73, Ernie Vincent will replace A. C. Capuder as advisor and director of KRVS.

WBJ-TV Station Covers Majority Of Campus Events

The USL T.V. Station, assigned to channels 81 and 82, is an educational channel and serves just that purpose. It includes such programs as "News in Depth" each Tuesday, "Inside USL," which informs students of current events on campus, and "Le Petit Monde de Jo-Jo," a French puppet show. This program, produced by Ernie Vincent, is the only totally French television broadcast in the U.S. WBJ also televises various programs for the nursing, home economics, and math departments at USL. Bernard Crocker is the executive director and Floyd Bernard is chief engineer for WBJ.

Opera Guild Incorporated A Colorful And Moving Production

The U.S.L. Opera Guild presents three productions a year, "A Masked Ball" by Giuseppe Verdi was the Fall of '72 production. The plot tells of Gustav III, King of Sweden, and his secret love for his confidant's wife, Amelia. The plot also reveals that two men, Count Ribbing and Count Horn, are conspiring to kill the King. A fortune teller, Ulrika, tells the King of this, but he refuses to listen. Ankerstrom, the King's aide, joins with the two conspirators and, in the end, at a masked ball, Ankerstrom plunges a dagger into Gustav's side. Ankerstrom finds out too late that his wife and the King were not lovers, as he had thought. The production was directed and produced by G.S. Beaman Griffin, and the orchestra was conducted by Dr. James Burke.

Much evident talent and hard work went into this production. Professionalism and color were two of the most outstanding characteristics of the well-received performance.

Student Choreography Featured In Concerts

The dance style portrayed by the members of the USL Dance Theatre Company was quite unique and interesting to watch, for it dealt with a wide variety of original ideas. The company's style was thought-provoking and provided for much audience mental participation. Both the Spring and Fall concerts met with great audience success. Besides these two programs, the dance group also performed for musicals, opera workshops and lecture demonstrations. Also included in this year's agenda was the performance of the highly respected Rudy Perez Company from New York. The group held special classes with the USL Company and presented a well-received concert in Angelle Hall. The Dance Theatre Company is under the direction of Mrs. Muriel Moreland.

'Born Yesterday' Revived A Forties Comedy

"Born Yesterday," presented by the U.S.L. Speech Department, was directed by Robert Cade. The technical director and designer was Richard Zimmerman. It was presented on November 15-19 in Burke Theatre. The set was extremely elaborate and quite appropriate as the story takes place in "the most lush hotel in Washington, D.C. after W.W. II." However, the play proved to be outdated and overdone in many parts.

In regard to its plot, Brock, a businessman, had been working in coordination with a Senator Hedges and his lawyer to pull off a dishonest deal. Brock lived with his girlfriend, Billie Dawn, a typical dumb blonde. They meet Paul, an educated man who lives two doors down from them and, upon Brock's instructions, Paul begins to educate Billie. As a result, Billie and Paul fall in love and unite against Brock's illegal scheme. The roles of Billie, Mrs. Hedges, and the maid were double-cast with performances alternating nightly.

'The Odd Couple' Played To Capacity Audiences

The Speech Department's summer production was "The Odd Couple." The leads were played by Michael Baham, as slob Oscar Madison, and Alan Dubroc, as clean cut Felix Unger. The production was well received by capacity audiences each night. "The Odd Couple" was directed by Richard Zimmerman, assistant professor of Speech. Mr. Zimmerman also doubled as tech director of the production.

New Rendition Of Fairytale Entertained Area Children

"Hansel and Gretel from Lagniappe," written and directed by Dr. Harold Poe, was an enjoyable tale sponsored by the Speech Department and the Lafayette Service League. This children's play was put on for third graders in Lafayette Parish and ran for eight performances. Additional performances were put on for the general public.

The plot of the play was basically like that of the ever-popular "Hansel and Gretel." Such variations as the use of the Cajun dialect and the introduction of a black African native during the course of the play were included. This play was full of variety and color. The lead parts were played by Justin Quigley as Hansel and Mary Ann Carson as Gretel.

Opera Guild Presented 'The Consul' In The Spring

"The Consul," with music and text by Gian-Carlo Menotti, is a tragedy set in an iron curtain country in Europe. The story told of a woman, Mrs. Magda Sorel, who was separated from her husband when he crossed the iron curtain to prevent persecution by the secret police. The police captured her husband, John Sorel, and she committed suicide.

The production director was Beaman Griffin with John Turner as conductor. Patrick Shelby played the part of John Sorel, and, due to an illness, the part of Magda Sorel was played by Nina Eminger.

Top: John Sorel's mother, played by Ramona Carmichael, and Magda (Ruth Falcon) expressed their grief over John and hope for his return. Bottom left: Magda committed suicide by using a gas stove. Bottom right: Nika Magadoff, the magician, played by Bradley Harris, sat in the office of Edna Perkins, who played the role of a police agent.

'The Sandbox' Was A Study Of Death

"The Sandbox" was one of three one-act plays presented by the Speech Department as its final production of the Spring. The play, written by Edward Albee, is considered by many as theatre of the absurd. "The Sandbox" is an allegory on death in which Mommy (Dianna Ducote) and Daddy (Dale Bernard) await the death of the central character, Grandma (Sou Garrett). Grandma is left on a beach in a sandbox, and when the time comes for her to die, the event is bravely faced by all. She calmly surrenders herself to the Angel of Death (Bob Baker). The play was a most unique endeavor and proved also to be a moving theatrical experience.

Top: Grandma (Sou Garrett) threw sand at Mommy (Dianna Ducote) as she played in her sandbox. Middle: Mommy (Dianna Ducote) awaited Grandma's time. Bottom: The Angel of Death (Bob Baker) arrived for Grandma.

'Crawling Arnold' Was Presented In The Spring

Jules Feiffer wrote this one-act play which concerns a 35-year old businessman who reverts to crawling as a result of his parents whom, at age 70, have just had another child. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Enterprise, bring in social workers to find out exactly what the problem is. As a result, Arnold, the patient, systematically seduces each new social worker. The part of Arnold was played by Mike Baham. Grace and Barry Enterprise were portrayed by Suzanne Stouse and David Thibodaux. "Crawling Arnold" was the best received of the three one-acts, all directed by Richard Zimmerman, assistant professor of Speech.

'Krapp's Last Tape' Staged In Burke Theatre

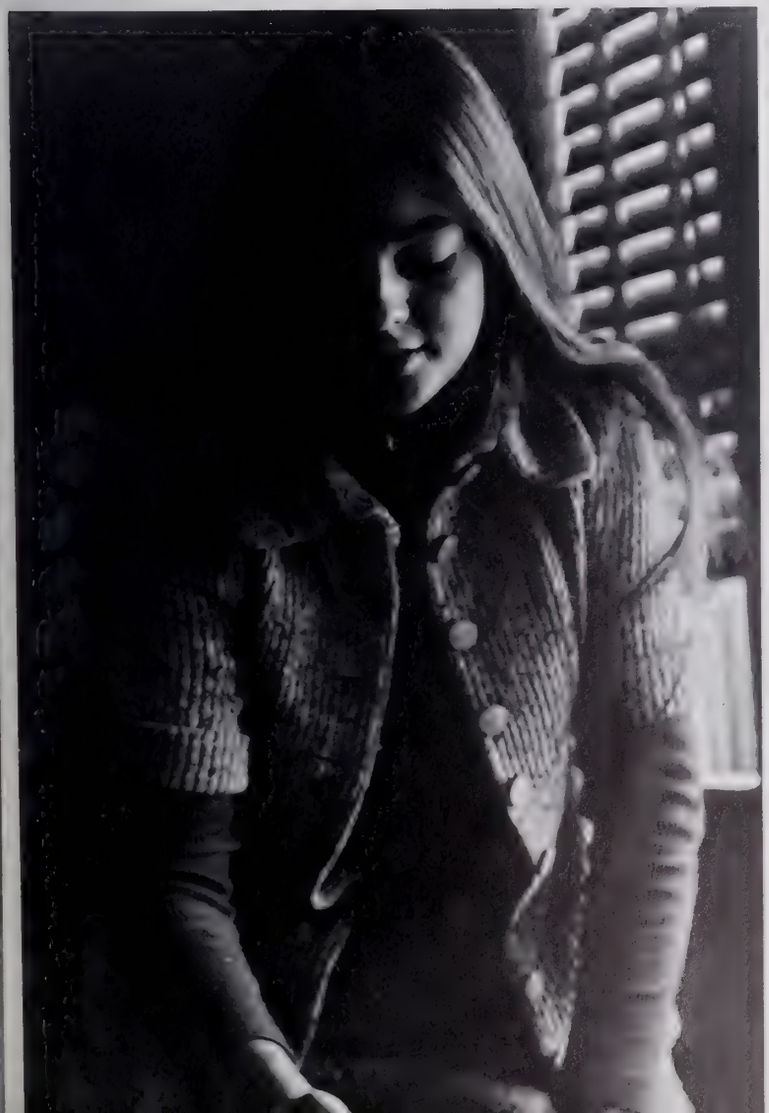

Top: Krapp, played by Glenn Meche, listened to the memories which he has taped during the past years of his life. Bottom: One of the few things which the old man finds enjoyable is his fondness for bananas.

Since "Krapp's Last Tape" was unlike the other one-act plays presented by the USL Speech Department in April, it was performed on alternating nights with "Crawling Arnold" and "The Sandbox." The play was written by Samuel Beckett, and its content created a very serious and somber mood. The play showed Krapp, a sixty-nine year old man, played by Glenn Meche, in his room as he listened to recorded memories of his younger days. He reminisces about the earlier, exciting years of his life, and those days were contrasted with the empty, meaningless existence he now leads. The depressing mood of the play was caused by Krapp's realization that he is close to the end of his life, and that he now questions its worth. The play was unique, and those who saw it found it both entertaining and moving.

Opera Guild Presented A Broadway Favorite

On the 18th and 19th of July at the Lafayette Municipal Auditorium, the USL Opera Guild presented "Hello Dolly," based on "The Matchmaker" by Thornton Wilder. It was produced and directed by G. S. Beaman Griffin. Mrs. Dolly Gallagher Levi, played by Lilette Rene, is a matchmaker, who, at the end of the play, manages to get a match for herself: She and Mr. Horace Vandergelder, played by Jack Smith, end up married. "Hello Dolly" was a great success due to a fine performance by the USL Opera Guild.

USL Orchestra Presented Concert To Aid Scholarship Fund

Our USL Symphony Orchestra, directed by Dr. James Burke, presented its Fall program on November 16, 1972 in Angelle Hall Theatre at 8:15 p.m. This presentation was a little different in that it was mainly held as a benefit to add funds to the orchestra scholarship fund.

This particular fall concert — containing works by 18th, 19th, and 20th century authors from Germany, France, Russia, America, Spain, and Czechoslovakia — is not the only activity which the orchestra takes part in. The members of the symphony also play for the Opera Guild in at least three productions a year and for the Mardi Gras festivities at the Lafayette Municipal Auditorium.

'The Firebugs' Was Met By Unprepared Audiences

"The Firebugs," a play by Max Frisch, was the first fall production by the Southwestern Players. It was presented October 11-15.

The show had quite an unusual plot. The town in which the story was set was besieged by arsonists who were terrorizing the citizens. Two of these citizens were Gotlieb and Babette Biederman, portrayed by Alan Dubroc and Suzanne Stouse. The firebugs were led by Dale Bernard as Willi and James Corkern as Sepp, who, eventually, succeeded in blowing up the Biederman's home through the couple's own submission.

The play was directed by Dr. Ronald C. Kern, with sets by Richard Zimmerman. The costumer was Bob Baker.

"The Firebugs" was somewhat of a diversion from the more conventional entertainment produced by the Southwestern Players in the past, and it unexpectedly met with mixed audience reactions.

USL Chorus Ensemble: Witnessed By Few, Missed By Many

The 80-member USL chorus, under the direction of Willis Ducrest, presented their fall concert on December 5 in Angelle Hall. The chorus is made up of music majors and other liberal arts students who have chosen Chorus as an elective. The first half of the concert consisted of spiritual and contemporary selections; the second half, of excerpts from "The Messiah." Accompaniment was provided by two pianists and three soloists were featured: Ruth Falcon, Patrick Shelby and John Turner, all USL Music Faculty members.

Community Was Involved In Summer Band Concert

The U.S.L. Band, under the direction of Mr. James Goodman, is most familiar to everyone because of the spirit it adds to our spirited basketball and not so spirited football games. It is truly an asset to both. However, there are numerous other activities which the band takes part in, such as Mardi Gras parades and special events for organizations and booster clubs. The band, along with the U.S.L. Jazz Ensemble, travels to different high schools throughout the state, holding concerts at student assemblies. The Jazz Ensemble also takes part in various jazz festivals in the surrounding areas.

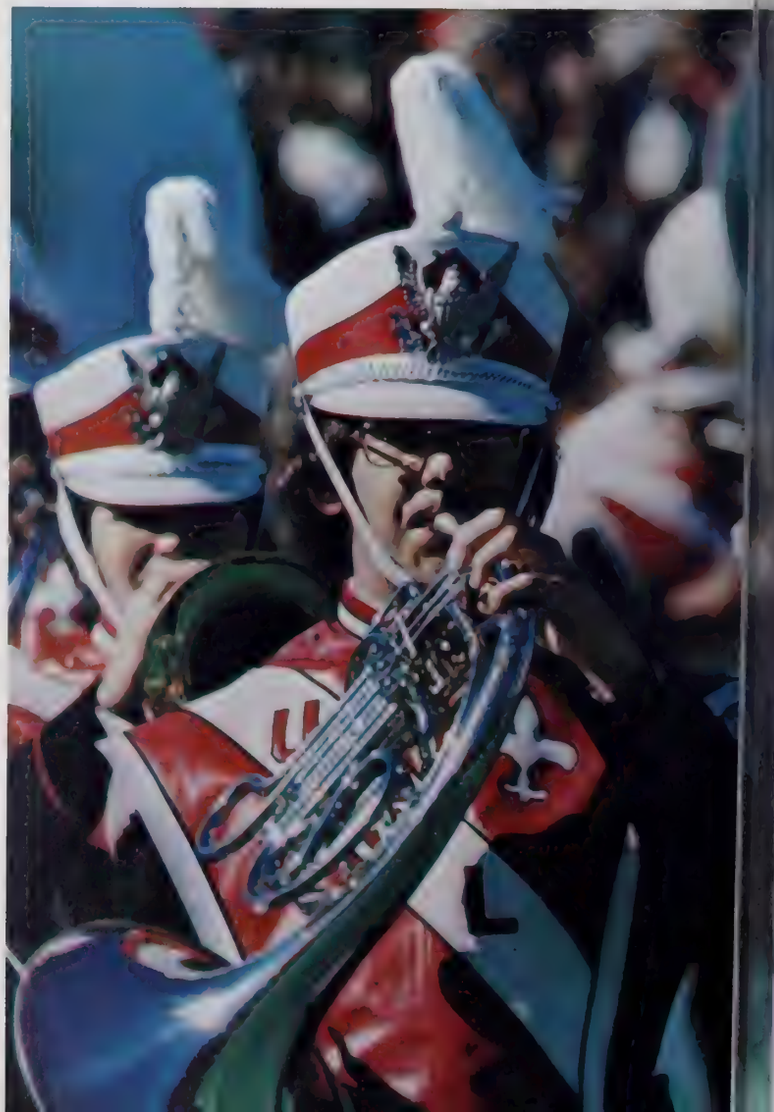

The highlight of this fall's band activities were their pre-game and halftime performances at the Saints' game in New Orleans on November 26, 1972. To the disappointment of the band members, various formations were excluded from the halftime show, but all turned out well in spite of it and it was enjoyed by all.

Louisiana Tech 7
Southwestern 0

The only score in the game came late in the third quarter by Louisiana Tech. Glenn Berteau scored on a two-yard run.

Late in the final quarter Southwestern seemed to get rolling with a dive from its own 27 to Tech's 11. But the offense could not move the ball any closer.

Defense dominated the game, causing each team to punt six times. One of Davy Clements' punts was blocked by Tech.

The game was played before 15,000 fans, who saw the wishbone come to life. The win gave USL a 1-1 record for the year while Southeast lost its 14th straight game.

USL's first score came when Mark Speyrer connected with Cleo Samuels on a 36 yard pass play. Keith Azios converted the extra point. Later, Thomas Younkin kicked a 46-yard field goal. Mark Speyrer then connected with Davy Abel on an 11-yard pass play for the second touchdown. Southwestern scored again when Lafayette Mitchell recovered a Robbie Juul fumble on the goal line in the fourth quarter. The final points were added when Juul ran 68 yards out of the wishbone play.

The Ragin' Cajuns had everything going for them against Abilene. With Mark Speyrer leading the offense, USL rolled up twenty-eight points. David Neustrom and Ken Williams led the defense to keep USL out in front for the night. During the game, Mark Speyrer ran for four touchdowns, one short of the USL record. Robbie Juul ran for the other touchdown.

Leslie Vogel recovered a fumble on the Abilene sixteen-yard line which set up the third touchdown. Leroy Johns blocked an Abilene Christian punt and Bill Hairston recovered for USL. The final USL touchdown came as a result of a pass interception by Steve Johnson. Johnson intercepted the ball at the USL three and returned it to the USL forty-three yard line. In the next play Mark Speyrer ran around right end, broke three tackles, and ran forty-two yards for the score.

Southwestern played Arkansas State yard for yard. Each team had fifteen first downs, and total offense was even at 268 yards. Southwestern's points were gained by Richard Azio's thirty-eight yard field goal and Lafayette Mitchell's four-yard run. Points were also scored by Azio's kicking the extra point and Roland Surita's two-yard run with Juul running for the two point after score. The only things that kept USL from winning the game were costly penalties.

Cardinals	3
Bulldogs	0

After winning a big game against the University of Tennessee at Chattanooga, the Bulldogs looked as if they had finally jelled. In that game Mark Speyrer and company came from behind, with 1:10 showing on the field clock, to hand Chattanooga a 22-21 loss. After the Bulldogs had scored, Coach Faulkinberry decided to go for it all. On the extra point attempt, Mark Speyrer passed to Don Michel in the end zone to win the game.

Against the Cardinals, however, it was a different story. Neither team seemed to get rolling. Except for capitalizing on a Bulldog short kick, field position was hard to come by. The Cardinals made use of the Bulldogs' bad kick to score on a 41-yard field goal by Mike Drake.

The next week would see Southwestern defeated 7-0 by the University of Texas at Arlington. In that game Southwestern's passing attack was held to a total of 40 yards. On the ground Roland Surita picked up 81 yards and Nathan Thornton 69 yards. Southwestern just couldn't seem to get things together.

Bulldogs Win Homecoming

Before an estimated 20,000 Homecoming fans who had come to see USL win, the Bulldogs succeeded in putting on quite a show. The performance was sparked by three great catches by Reggie Dupre, the running of Rolando Surita and the great defensive effort of Charles Fox. The first score was a one-yard run by Mark Speyrer and Ricky Azios. Santa Clara put the next points on the board on a one-yard run by Selvin. Fox intercepted for USL and ran it in for a score. Dupre then added six more on an eleven-yard play from Speyrer. The final points came on a three-yard run by Juul.

The next week USL faced its oldest rival, Northwestern. This rivalry is the second oldest in the State, surpassed only by LSU-Tulane. The record now stands USL 31 / NSU 29, with three ties after NSU won this year 24-8.

The final game of this up and down season was played against McNeese. McNeese went into the game with a No. 10 rating in college division and it looked like a sure win for the Cowboys. But USL once again came to life and handed the Cowboys their first home defeat since our victory over them in 1966. Our defense held the Cowboys to only 77 yards rushing for the night. USL finished the season 5-6 with a 1-4 conference record.

Revenge Was Sweet For The Soccer Team

Peter Dickson and his team of "Internationals" beat LSU 5-4 after losing to the Tigers earlier this season. The soccer team had its problems this season, however, winning only one game, tying one and losing three. The tie came in the game against Delgado in the Lake Charles Tournament; the losses were to Pearl International and LSU the first time. The team lost its last game at home against Tulane.

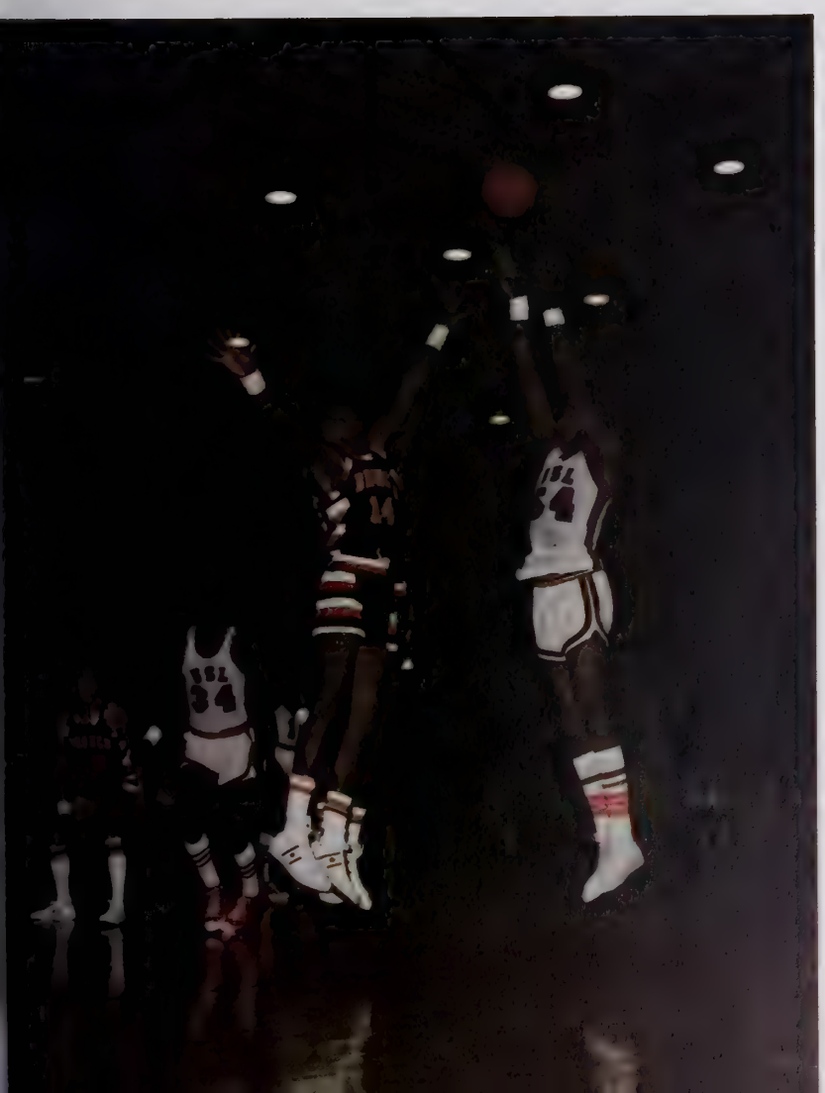

Bulldogs Staged Good Home Opener

After the first away game against Nevada-Las Vegas which we won 102-92, USL returned for the first home game against Pan American. The game started slow with USL leading 17-16 and 12 minutes left before half. After that USL walker away. By half, we were leading 55-35. Lamar had 19 points, Fogle-10, Ebron-8 and Wilson-8. In rebounds Ebron at halftime had 8, Saunders-8 and Fogle-7. USL went on to win 111-77.

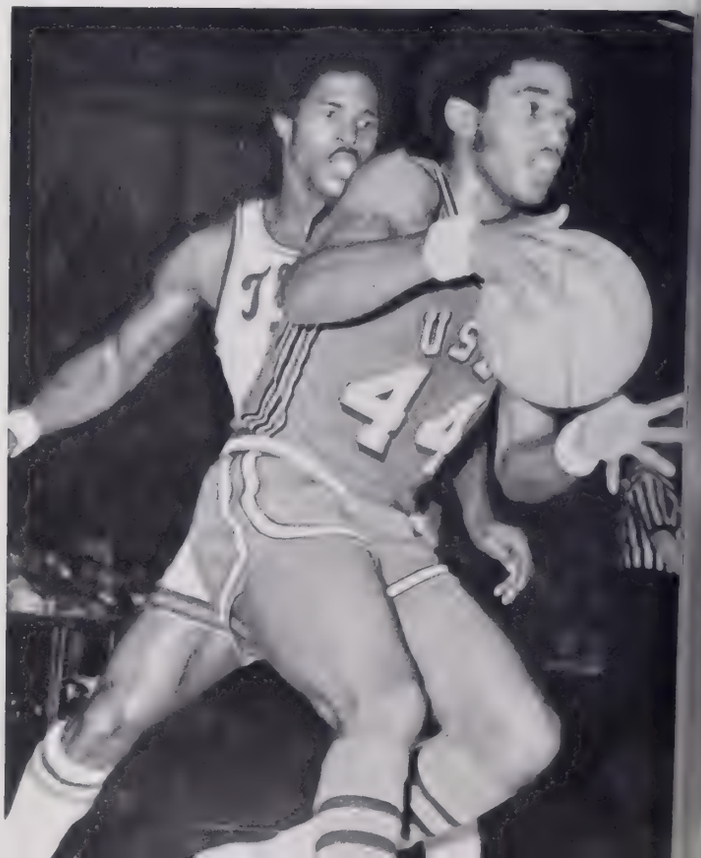

USL Took Classic Again

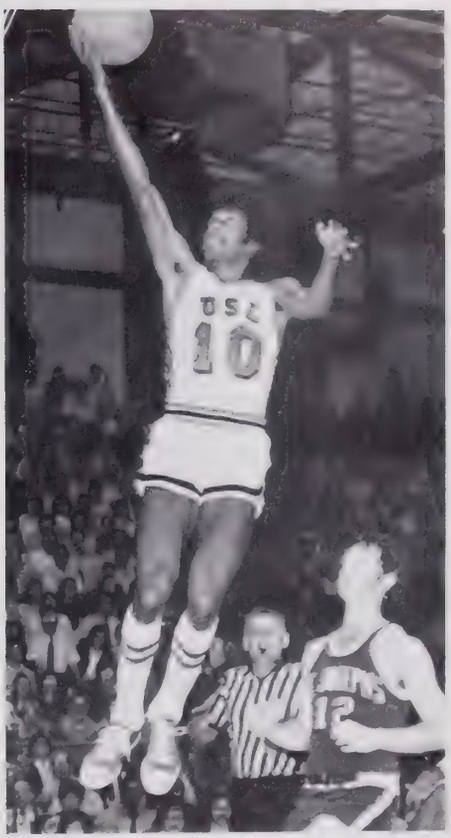

In the last five years USL has won the Bayou Classic four times. To win the classic hasn't been an easy ride, having to beat Long Beach State last year and Oklahoma State the year before. This year the Bulldogs took on St. Joseph's in the first game of the Tournament. By halftime USL held a 12-point lead 49-37. In the first half Bo Lamar had 16 points, Fogle 14 and Wilson 10. In rebounds, Fogle had 7 and Wilson 6. USL went on to win 98-84.

The next game was against the Thundering Herd. Remember them? We played them last year in the playoffs. This year was a carbon copy of last year's game. USL came out on top 98-84.

USL Won Second Conference Game

USL returned home after four road games which we won against McNeese State 88-67 and Pan-American University 86-75 before losing to Jacksonville University 78-120. The Jacksonville loss was one of the biggest lopsided scores ever handed to USL in recent years. Afterwards, however, the team came back to defeat the University of Cincinatti 94-88 at Nassau Coliseum in New York.

At home, we had little trouble downing Lamar University 129-111.

4th Win Kept USL No. 1

USL won its fourth SLC game on January 15 by defeating Abilene Christian 96-70. The score at halftime was 38-33. During the first half Lamar led the scoring with 17 points. Second was Fogle with 9. In rebounding Saunders got 10, Ebron 9 and Wilson 7. Shipley and company finished the game in fine style. Lamar was the leading scorer with 32 points, followed by Ebron with 22 points and 14 rebounds. Bisbano, Wilson and Fogle each scored 10 points to add the icing to the cake. The game was played before an estimated crowd of 7,891.

On January 13 Bo Lamar became one of college basketball's elite by scoring his 3000th point in 95 varsity games. He is only the second player in University division to accomplish this feat. The only other player to surpass 3000 was the "Pistol" Pete Maravich of that other Louisiana State school who scored 3,667 in 83 games. After the presentation of the game ball to Lamar, USL went on to defeat Texas of Arlington 79-73.

Cross Country Team Won Southland Crown Again

USL's Cross-Country team took the Southland Conference Crown for the second straight year. Abilene Christian had dominated the Crown for the last eight years. USL joined the conference two years ago and by virtue of this win most assuredly set its place firmly in the Conference. This year we beat out Louisiana Tech, McNeese State and Abilene Christian. USL posted a low score of 24 points to 41, 46, and 50 points respectively.

Women's Tennis Made A Fine Showing

With all the money flowing into the major sports at USL, the smaller sports really seem to get the short end of the deal. Such was the case with the women's tennis team. Because the athletic Department did not appropriate money to the team, the girls who participated did so only for their enjoyment of the game. USL has been most fortunate in recruiting girls like these to play for the school and they are to be commended not only for this, but for a fine showing in 72 as well.

Wrestlers Had Good Season, Considering

The only thing that kept Coach John Demko from having a championship team this year was a few athletic scholarships. Demko had the material but lacked the reserves needed to compete against the larger schools like Alabama, LSU and Wisconsin. Injuries, of course, caused considerable problems with no one to take over when key men were hurt. However, all things considered, the team put in an excellent performance for the year.

Urban never once mentioned that he, as Athletic Director, had any responsibility to the students of the University while operating their athletic program.

According to Urban, this decision to switch the status of the center bleacher section was one he felt necessary if he was to keep within his own definition of his job. The seat change brought in an added revenue of $15,000 for the Athletic Department.

SGA session hears Authement

by Sidney Watson

Dr. Ray Authement, USL Academic Vice-President, talked to the Student Government Association Monday night about the Championship Club seating and censorship of campus communications.

The SGA invited Dr. Authement to its meeting Monday night to wind up its investigation of Championship Club seating. Authement assured the members no more seats would ever be secretly changed from the student section.

Regretful occurence

Authement expressed a regret over the transfer of the seating, but said there was no way to return the seating to the students this season. He said no other season seating is available and he felt it would be a hazardous move to withdraw the seating from some of the University's most important financial backers.

Authement, who said he had no knowledge of the planned seating change sought to explain the motives that led Athletic Director Whitey Urban to change the status of the seating. Authement explained there has been an attempt to cut down on the amount of University funds with private donations, and in mind this end for $250

Athletics Was Involved In Numerous Hassles

By general consensus, it could be said that USL had a rather good basketball team during the 1972-1973 season. It could also be said that our team provided much entertainment for students and townspeople alike. It may be assumed that the team's fame and success has done much to make the name of USL familiar to many people.

However, acquiring and maintaining a top-rate team requires a good deal of financial maneuvering, and the NCAA has placed certain restrictions upon universities to prevent any excesses in the area of recruiting.

In the fall of the year, the President of the University placed certain members of the athletic department on disciplinary probation after observing several irregularities with regard to recruiting. This action seemed to be taken to avoid NCAA action against the team. It certainly would have been a colossal waste of money to have recruited such an outstanding team, and then to have it barred from competition.

The NCAA did not seem to be appeased by the University action, and instigated official action against USL. However, a court order was obtained which delayed the action until August of 1973.

But what effect did all this activity have upon the student? Intercollegiate athletics is supposed to foster a healthy spirit of competition between colleges, and exists to provide recreation and entertainment for the student body. Nevertheless, it appears that a trend had developed during 1972 which seemed to push out the student spectator in favor of the more lucrative, older non-student spectator.

In October, plans were formulated to sell a section of previously student seating to season-ticket holders, and which would require any student interested in attending a game to pick up a ticket in advance. Those student tickets not given out in advance would be sold as general admission at the door. SGA qualms about the loss of seating were quieted by the mention of the possibility of closed-circuit broadcasting of all home games live to the Union.

The athletic department got the extra seats, and the students got the shaft. The live broadcasts never materialized, and the ticket pick-up turned into a super hassle. Though students were allowed only one ticket per i.d., they could pick up a ticket for a friend only if that friend were a member of the opposite sex. Whether this regulation was to encourage heterosexuality or to discourage ticket distribution was unclear. At any rate, the regulations did little to increase student attendance.

Then, in December, Athletic Director Whitey Urban became pressed to find seating for the "Championship Club," a group of fans who had made contributions of $1,000 to the athletic department in return for four season tickets to all athletic events. Urban decided that he could take the seats from the student midcourt section, and proceeded to do so without consulting with any Administration official. It must be mentioned that he did set up a section of bleachers behind a goal as a sort of compensation. Student Government's outrage at the autocratic activities of the athletic director was cooled by a promise from the University that the incident would not be repeated.

Mark Roberts Won PKT's Purple Shaft

The year for PKT was off to an eventful start in the spring as the brothers won the All-Campus Sports trophy. The annual Columbine Formal was held in April at which the yearly awards were presented.

Among the recipients was Tommy Aucoin who won the coveted Asshole of the Year Award. Several brothers received the Triangle Award for distinguished accomplishments above and beyond the call of nature, and Martha Bateman was presented the Hexagon Award for outstanding achievements. Jerry Martin received a special award selected especially for him, and Mark Roberts was the proud recipient of the Purple Shaft.

Among the summer events were the house repainting and Cat Stevens' stay at the house. The most memorable event was the CB Balls held at the house this summer.

The fall brought the homecoming activities and the Alumni party held at the new stadium. The Alumni played the Actives in a football game at this event. The Woodchoppers' Party was held on a very wet weekend, and though it was pouring outside, it wasn't too dry inside either, as the sixty partygoers consumed three garbage cans full of jungle juice.

Brothers Of Sigma Nu Led Campus Activities

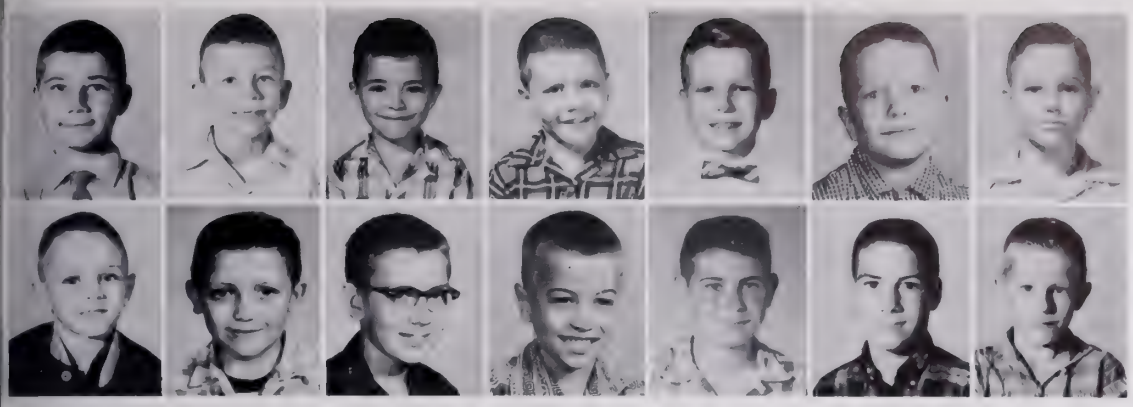

The brothers of Sigma Nu racked up again this year with a great rush, with a great new group of pledges. The brothers of Sigma Nu worked to serve the campus, making their presence known from SGA to Blue Key to Union Boards to campus organizations. The brothers of Sigma Nu worked to serve, to help others by putting resources together for the good of others.

Tri-Sigma Won First In Homecoming Decoration

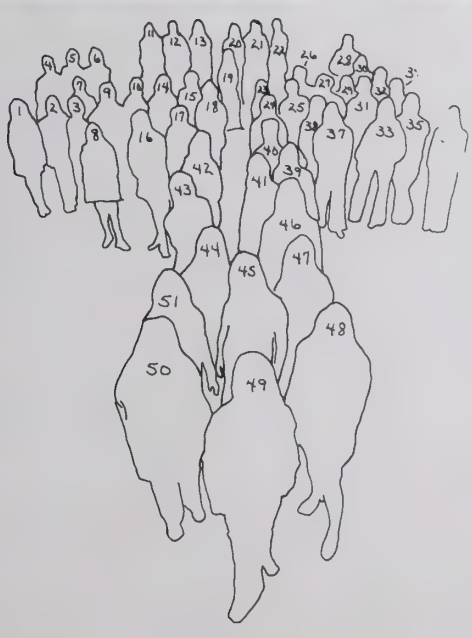

Sigma sisters knocked 'em down again. During rush — let rushees know what sisterhood means. And picking out the number one rushees. New Sigma sisters carried Sigma sisterhood through a year at USL, through homecoming week with one incredible display. And a first place trophy to make it all worthwhile. Carried Sigma sisterhood through a year at USL. Proved that sisterhood can work. That it can be real. Sisters for all to see. Purple will never be the same.

Omega Psi Phi Finished One Year At USL

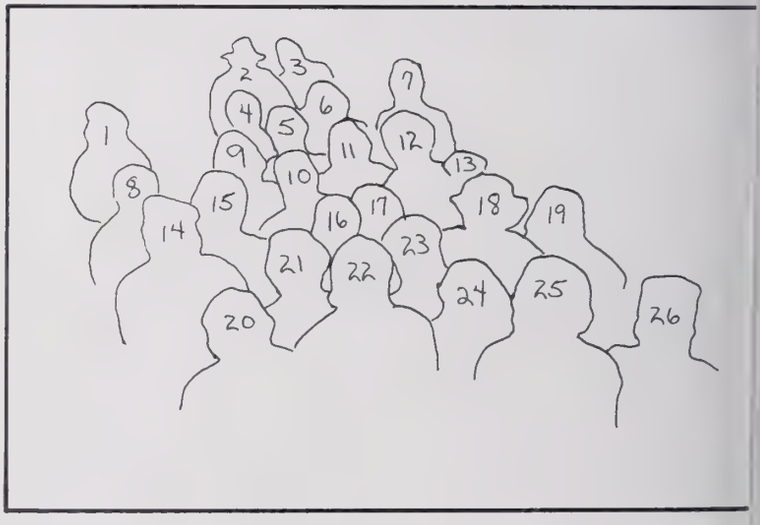

The USL Chapter of Omega Psi Phi has finished their first year as a fraternity on the USL campus. The fraternity was presented to and accepted by the University during the spring semester of 1972. Omega Psi Phi fraternity is one of the two black fraternities on campus. The members held firmly to the principles of academic standing, togetherness, and brotherhood. The brothers of Omega Psi Phi also acquired a fraternity house during the year, located on General Mouton Avenue.

The brothers of Omega Psi Phi included Samuel Gaines, Waylynn Benjamin, Gregory Gardere, Tony Cain, Jackie Joseph — Sweetheart, Alfred Davis, Leo Miller, Paul Derouselle, Lloyd Figaro, and Howard Boutte.

ΠΚΑ Relocated On Johnston Street

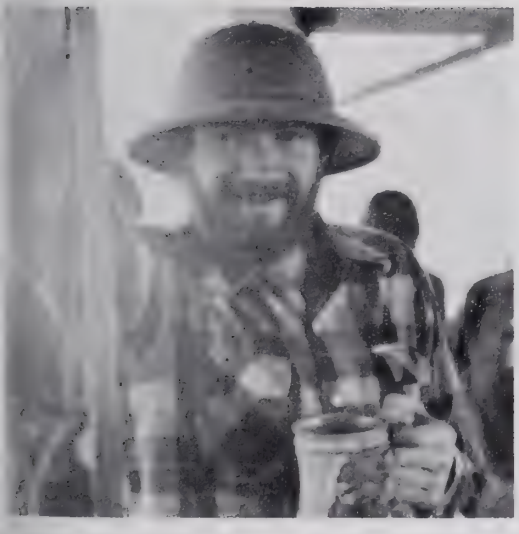

The Pikes had a right to be proud, since during 1972 they captured the campus championship in both volleyball and baseball. And 1972 was a party year as well. There was the pig roast in February, followed by Founders' Day on the first of March. The traditional Dream Girl Formal was held on April 7. The Pikes also moved to a new house during the year, the new one located on Johnston Street.

Phi Delta Theta Emphasized Brotherhood

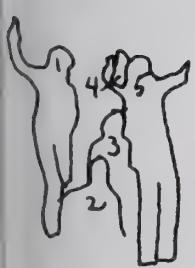

A damned good year for the Brothers in the Bond. Started out with a good rush. More Goretti material, the new tradition. And the Breaux Bridge twins. Damned good pledges. Put Phi Delt and Phi Delt spirit everywhere on campus. In serving, in doing. During homecoming — brought home another homecoming trophy. Phi Delta Theta at USL — a good time. Chi Omegas Were Active In Homecoming Decorations University Chi Omegas proved why their sorority is number one nationally. Working through rush to pick the number one rushees. Selecting a group of beautiful new pledges.

Then showed everyone what sisterhood can mean — can do — can achieve. With school service projects. With Chi Omegas in all school service organizations and honor societies. With Chi Omegas producing a grand new homecoming display. The Owls can be proud.

Kappa Alpha Kept Alive Their Southern Tradition

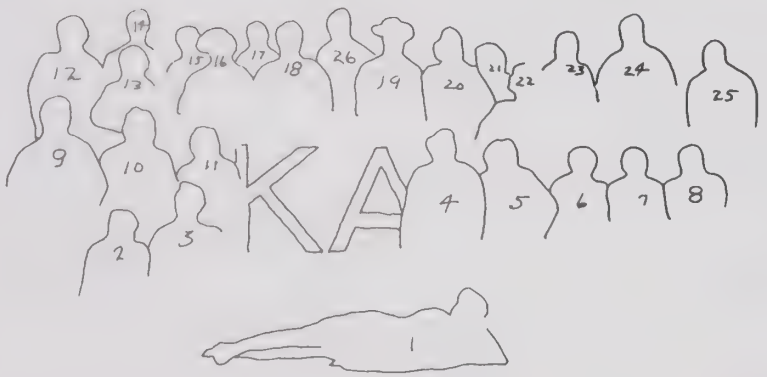

Opened the Kappa Alpha Penthouse. A new stand for the Old South and for its brotherhood. Began the year with a flock of new pledges and, believe it or not, another Broussard brother. Service to the school, in service organizations, with one hundred dollars given to the Day Care Center. With the brothers of Kappa Alpha making their presence known on campus — everywhere. Old South week, parties, good times, laughing and drinking and being brothers. The brothers of Kappa Alpha.

'House Of AOΠ' Was Homecoming Theme

Begin with a genuine rush, with Little Women and laughing and crying, and this year Katie Arceneaux didn't burn her hair. New pledge. New sister. Sisterhood for AOPi.

Stress campus activity. Homecoming in all its aspects looking down on the House of AOPi. Step, step; through the parade — a great group decoration.

End with service: to the school, to the community. AOPi fighting arthritis.

Sisterhood. School. Service. AOPi.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon Participated In "Lee's 500 Feast & Flee"

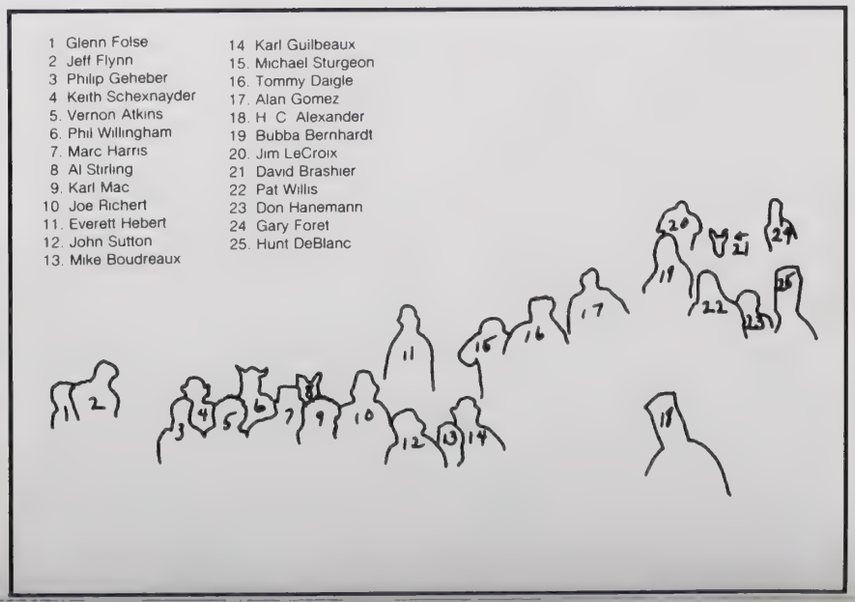

The year opened for the brothers with their traditional spring formal in February, followed close by with the "Cochon de SAE" celebration, and topped with the Beachcomber three-day marathon party. Aside from the major parties, one of the more memorable happenings of the spring of '72 was Frog croaking in Denbo.

The brothers found a new means of excitement in the "Lee's 500 Feast & Flee" races, which put new demands on their speed and agility. The house mice wished a sad farewell to Grandma in the fall, but "Sir" still hung around as a sort of consolation. SAE went to "Yell-Like-Hell" for the first time in years, but their comeback was one of the less memorable events of the year. They could take pride, however, in being the Red champs in both basketball and football for 1972.

The Fil-A-Mug Victory Party after beating Sigma Nu in intramurals was another fall highlight. Notable accomplishments of the year included Mark Harris bringing a foreign Little Sister to a social, and Jim LeCroix finally making it into the fraternity after several attempts.

Student Government's Year Marked By Power Changes

The Student Government Association has long been a target of student disinterest no matter how significant SGA actions may be. 1972 did not break this tradition.

The year opened with Ray Allain finishing his term as President. The $36,000 L'Acadien surplus was divided for campus needs during his last days in office.

SGA Bylaws Were Formulated

Early in 1972, the USL-SGA Child Care Center was established. Under the direction of Jack Raine, a psychology major, the Center was designed for married students who needed a place to keep their children during classes.

The elections in March were customarily heated, and political intrigue cloaked the campus for weeks. After the first election, Charles Lanphier and Jeff Patout were elected as President and Treasurer. A subsequent runoff election selected Mike Olivier as Vice President.

During Lanphier's five-month term in office, he began to increase the President's power by careful selection of appointees to the various University Committees. He also embarked on plans for parking revision, as well as pursuing the fight against the dorm residence requirement. Since Lanphier's Vice President had been a member of the opposition during the campaign, Mike Olivier was excluded from Lanphier's plans and decision-making.

Lanphier's term in office was abruptly terminated in September with his resignation. Olivier then became President, with Darrell Judice assuming the Vice Presidential spot and Stafford Menard filling Judice's former position as Chairman of the Senate.

Olivier began executing plans of his own while pursuing some of the plans made during the previous administration. The Band Referendum was passed, the Child Care Center was fully licensed, by-laws were formulated, election regulations were reformed, and the Ombudsman was removed from the realm of student politics.

The Department of Student Employment was established to provide more opportunities for part-time work for students. There was also the investigation into the possibility of commuter meal tickets, along with the Bookstore investigation and that of the student loan program.

In November of the fall semester, the power structure was again altered with the resignation of Darrell Judice. Stafford Menard moved up to the position of Vice President, while Michael Mayeaux became the new Chairman of the Senate.

Union Provided A Variety Of Programs

The USL Union provided social, cultural, educational, and recreational programs for the students, faculty, and alumni at USL. The Union is composed of the Governing Board, Program Council, and various committees. The Governing Board formulated general policy for the operation of the USL Union, regulated the activities of members, guests, and organizations in the buildings and groups or individuals using the buildings, and approved budgets for the program activities. The Program Council coordinated the work of the Union committees and planned overall programs of the Union.

The Program Council sponsored The Miss University Beauty Pageant. Other activities included TGIF and a carnival during Homecoming week. The Films Committee provided over a hundred films for students during the course of the year. Programs included a popular movie series, a Monday night art series, and Freaky Flicks, a horror movie series.

The Tours and Travels committee sponsored two ski trips to Crested Butte, Colorado and to Avoriez, France. Onmibus put on programs to entertain students. They held a flea market where students had a chance to sell or trade personal items and a sidewalk Art Contest.

The Speakers Committee brought a variety of guest speakers to USL. Dr. Alton Oschner spoke on "The Effects of Smoking and Cancer." Other major speakers were Dick Gregory who spoke on "Politics '72" and Lieutenant Colonel Anthony Herbert who spoke on war atrocities. The Speakers Committee also sponsored a series of Sandwich Seminars which consisted of a panel of students, administrators, and faculty discussing such topics as censorship, curriculum reform, and minority groups.

The Big Name Entertainment Committee strove to bring a well rounded program which would appeal to all student factions. From the Coffeehouse Circuit, the Entertainment Committee brought to the Union Ellen Kearney and the Argir Group. Big Name Entertainment included John Hartford with Mike Williams and Colours, Bobby Womack and Peace, Les Moore, the Guess Who and David Bromberg, and Osibissa, an African jazz rock group. The committee co-sponsored the Rudy Perez Dance Company from New York.

Union Committees Served Student Needs

The Recreation Committee is responsible for general recreation around campus. The Committee sponsored several tournaments which included chess, general sports, and foos-ball. Other activities included a Halloween scavenger hunt and Casino Night. The Hospitality Committee served as the University's official hostess. Along with greeting dignitaries to the campus, Hospitality sponsored Fashion Fair in conjunction with Neiman Marcus of Houston and a Bridal Fair in conjunction with Modern Bride Magazine. Additional activities included hosting for Coffeehouse and serving at teas, receptions, and Casino Night.

Farm Bureau Installed On Campus

The Stockman's Association promoted and supported Fellowship in the Animal Husbandry Industry and held monthly suppers for its members. The Association honored Calvin Taylor, a 1968 USL graduate, with a lifetime honorary membership. The Association raised money to finance several projects. It bought and donated several pieces of equipment for the Animal Husbandry Dept. at USL and supported judging teams to compete at the collegiate level at Fort Worth, Dallas, and Houston, while members also participated in competition in Florida as well.

Agricultural Engineers is a professional organization for students majoring in agricultural engineering, and it is associated with the national student sector of agricultural engineers. They have assisted the College of Agriculture in sponsoring Aggie Day. They sponsored a guidance program for students interested in agriculture engineering by touring high schools and showing slides in order to promote an interest in engineering. The engineers also attended student meetings with other agricultural engineering societies in the states.

The USL Farm Bureau is an affiliate of the National and State Farm Bureau Federations. It provided communication with outside activities in the agricultural field and provided students with means of obtaining marketing consumer information. The Farm Bureau took trips to agricultural areas in the state. They also visited experimental stations in Crowley, New Iberia, and at LSUNO.

The Aggie Club held a social in the fall open to all students. It sponsored Aggie Day and held a banquet honoring alumni and outstanding students in the College of Agriculture.

Home Economic Association Sought To Change Its Image

The Horticulture Club sponsored an educational field trip and socials in the fall and spring for its members and staff. The club participated in department sponsored activities that included the FFA Judging Contest, the Camellia Show, and the Orchid Short Course.

The Home Economics Association strove to change the image of home economics through Project COIL (Change Our Image in Louisiana) by visiting area high schools to discuss careers in home economics and by publishing articles in campus and community publications. The project of the Home Economics Association was to offer their help to St. Mary's Home by giving them a Hallowe'en party and by helping the children with their school work.

The main purpose of the Agronomy Club was to acquaint students with the different fields of Agronomy, while providing a framework for fellowship and exchange among Agronomy majors. The Agronomy Club sponsored students going to Aggie Club-supported judging tournaments.

Accounting Forum Presented CPA Speakers

The Accounting Forum held monthly meetings with C.P.A.'s as guest speakers. On Accounting Day, the Forum honored the President of C.P.A. Society of Louisiana. They held a reception and banquet for him. The Forum took a field trip to Galveston, Texas to study the accounting system of the American National Insurance Company. Altogether the membership of the Accounting Forum numbered 125, making it one of the larger organizations on campus.

The USL Marketing Club is designed to provide a controlling information link between the academic society and the professional society of marketing (and merchandising) majors and other businessmen. Information concerning marketing is provided for its members through both sponsorship of guest speakers as well as field trips taken by the club. This year they traveled to Houston for two days. The Marketing Club also provides information concerning entrance into professional fields.

The Economics and Finance Forum widened the educational background of members by having speakers discuss current economic problems, having excursions to places of academic interest and having a presentation of job opportunities for majors. The Forum attended a seminar on foreign trade at the International House in New Orleans and invited guest speakers who were outstanding local businessmen and representatives from the French and Spanish Trade Mart. The Forum held the annual Southwestern Economics and Finance Forum in the spring.

The Southwestern Association of Management helped to fill the gap between classroom studies and actual business procedures by inviting guest speakers and touring various businesses around Lafayette. The Association visited the Budweiser Plant, a prominent department store, and an oil company, all in Houston. They visited the Evangeline Bakery and the Sanitation and Sewerage Plant in Lafayette. Guest speakers were Don Herbert from Lourdes Hospital in Lafayette, and Harry Delahoussaye, Vice-President of AFL-CIO and President of Lafayette Buildings and Trade Association.

The National Collegiate Association for Secretaries attended the state convention for NCAS where all of the chapters from Louisiana met. On National Secretary Day, the NCAS had a coffee honoring all of the secretaries from the campus. The NCAS was also responsible for publishing the campus calender as a service to the University.

SLTA Held Convention At LSU

The Association for Childhood Education is for Education Majors who are interested in the education and well-being of children. ACE gave a Halloween party for the Day Care Center at USL and a picnic for the children at St. Mary's. Members of ACE tutored elementary school children and worked as para-professionals. They visited Apollo, a school in Bossier City, which had innovative techniques in teaching elementary children.

The Physical Education Majors held meetings to help students with their P.E. curriculum. They sponsored games between the students and faculty. The PEM held an annual barbeque which was open to the public. Dr. Dugas and the PEM sponsored a reception for the PEM alumni on the Saturday of Homecoming.

The Southwest Louisiana Teachers' Association attended a SLTA convention in Baton Rouge at LSU. They participated in Homecoming and co-sponsored an Education banquet in October where guest speakers presented awards to outstanding students.

LES Held Engineering Day

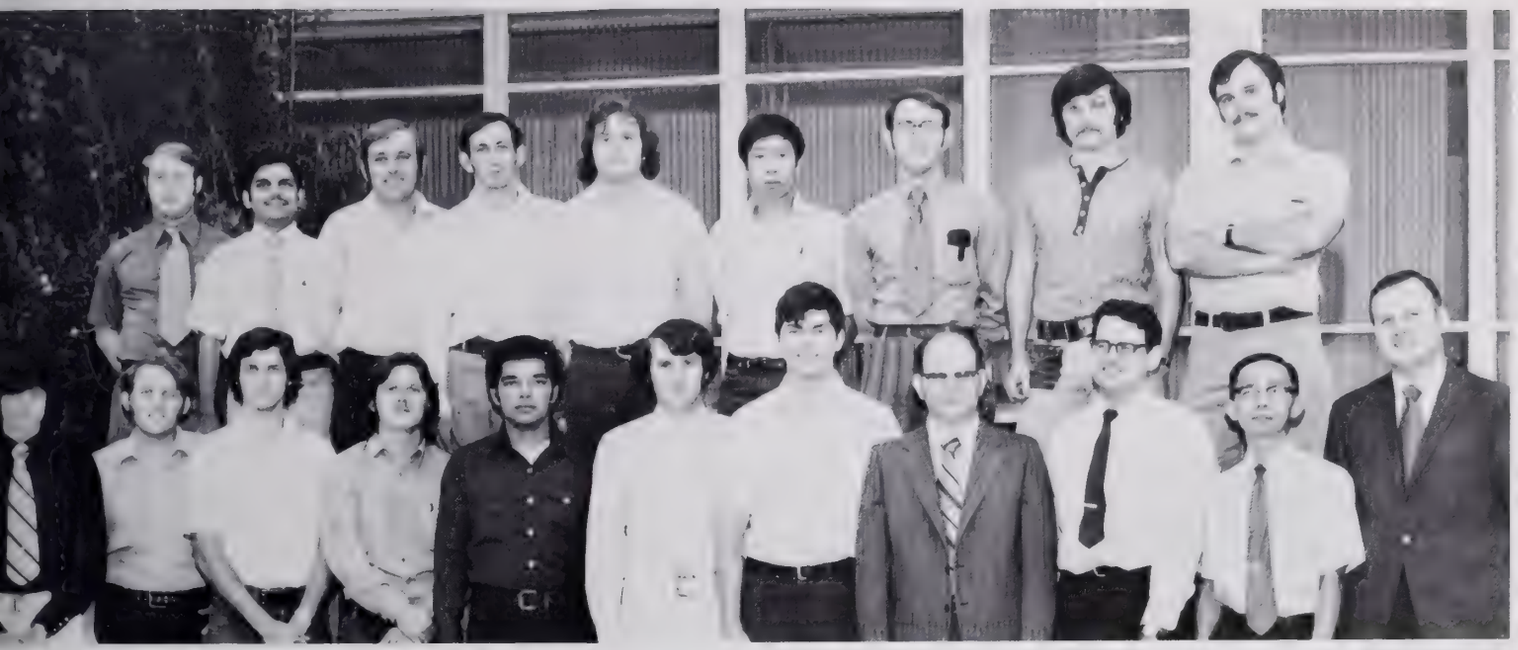

The Society of Automotive Engineers at USL works in conjunction with the professional organization, Society of Automotive Engineers. SAE had guest speakers, both professional and student, who presented technical papers. SAE was concerned with activities in research for the utilization of fuels and lubricates that are used in the automotive apparatus and with specific skills and technology in air transportation, aerospace, engineering materials, power plants, and related fields. Information on this research was made into pamphlets and slides by the professional organization of SAE. The professionals then sent it to the student organization.

The American Society of Chemical Engineers took several field trips in order to observe practical application of chemical processing and to become familiar with the equipment used in the processes. The chemical engineers went to Houston, Texas, to visit the chemical industry and to Dow Chemical in Baton Rouge. ASCE had guest speakers to discuss overseas experiences, pollution problems, and what chemical engineers can do, and films on ecology. Towards the end of the year, the chemical engineers had a crawfish boil for its members.

The Louisiana Engineering Society is the governing body of the College of Engineering. It is the only student chapter of LES in the state. It is composed of all engineering students at USL. The LES sponsored Engineering Day. It was in charge of intramurals in the College of Engineering and held a keg party at Girard Park and a volleyball tournament with the faculty. The LES controlled all student funds that were distributed to the College of Engineering.

Engineering Clubs Worked With Their Professional Chapters

The USL Student Chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers is striving to provide the Civil Engineering students with a full spectrum of activities. The ASCE has sponsored a Field trip to the bridge construction at Krotz Springs and to the ASCE National Environmental Conference in Houston. The ASCE visited the Research and Testing Laboratories of the Louisiana Department of Highways in Baton Rouge, the New Orleans Superdome, and the Port of New Orleans. The Chapter obtained professional speakers for many of its regular meetings, and at one of these meetings it hosted the Baton Rouge Branch of the ASCE (professional). The Chapter participated in a full schedule of athletic sports between the various engineering departments, maintained a student room with free coffee and snacks, published a bi-semester newspaper (CE Times), and designed and built projects for Engineering Day exhibition.

The American Society of Petroleum Engineers at USL is the student chapter of the professional ASPE. The professional ASPE helped the students by holding monthly meetings at the Petroleum Club where guest speakers from the petroleum industry were invited to speak about the oil and gas producing industry. They attended a technical conference in San Antonio that provided the engineers with information on all the current research that was going on in the industry. The student chapter of ASPE hosted a student paper contest for students in petroleum engineers from southern colleges. They participated in intramurals.

The American Society of Mechanical Engineers is the major organization in the Department of Mechanical Engineering at USL. The organization took several field trips during the year. One of the trips was to St. Mary's Iron Works in Franklin. The Mechanical Engineers took a tour of the area sugar factories and they visited the Air King Corporation in Eunice. These field trips helped to acquaint the students in mechanical engineering with the practical operation of the industry. The ASME project was to host the Region Ten Student Conference. This Conference was composed of students from schools in Texas, Louisiana, and Mexico. One student in the mechanical engineering departments from each of these schools presented a technical paper on mechanical engineering. The Region Ten Student Conference helped to bring together the Mechanical Engineering departments from the South. The ASME invited speakers from industry to speak on Mechanical Engineering and other related technology to the mechanical engineering students at USL.

The Institute of Electrical and Electronic Engineers held monthly meetings with guest speakers from Lockheed and NASA. The IEEE took a field trip to NASA and held joint meetings with the professional chapter of IEEE.

Chi Alpha Held Jesus Day

The Wesley Foundation held morning worship service and evening supper every Sunday for Methodist students at USL. The Foundation took the students from St. Mary's on a picnic and helped to paint the Ivanhoe Methodist Church in Lafayette. The Wesley Foundation through its activities was involved in joyful living with God.

Chi Alpha provided an outreach to the mission field of the university campus through full gospel students. It established continual dialogue between students and the denomination. Chi Alpha held a Jesus Day Festival which featured different musical groups.

The Christian Science Organization met weekly to read from the Bible and relate experiences and testimonies on Christian living.

Cheerleaders Sponsored Rallies To Promote Spirit

The cheerleaders were responsible for leading the crowds at football games and basketball games in spirit. They held regular meetings and practiced twice a week throughout the year. They also organized pep rallies, sponsored the spirit stick, and helped out with the Yell Like Hell Contest.

SASN Presented Speakers

The USL Biological Society's meetings consisted of guest speakers, research reports, field trips, illustrated talks, color movies, and picnics. The Society had several guest speakers who spoke on a "Wolf Study in the West," the Rockefeller Wildlife Refuge, Ecuador's deep sea fisheries, and environmental problems. The Biological Society co-sponsored the Audubon Wildlife Films in Lafayette and assisted with the Region Six Science Fair held in March. Field trips were taken to Zigler Museum in Jennings and to Chicot State Park Arboretum.

The Southwest Association of Student Nurses held monthly meetings at which guest speakers made presentations, and films on nursing were shown. Their main activity was sponsoring Student Nurse week in the fall. During this week the student nurses picked Student Nurse of the Day for each day during the week and put up public health booths in the Student Union, gave out information on public health and the prevention and detection of different diseases.

The Southwestern Louisiana Geological Society sponsored education in the field of Geology for Geology majors. The organization had several speakers in to talk on the different aspects of Geology. They also took a field trip to Waco, Texas.

Language Organizations Enjoyed Productive Year

Le Cercle Francais is an organization that draws French speaking students together, whether they are French majors or not. Le Cercle Francais conducted all of their meetings and social events in French to help the students gain practical application of the French language. At their monthly meetings the French Club invited French and Canadian speakers who passed through Southwestern Louisiana and students who had studied abroad in Angers, France to talk about their experiences and their impressions of the French culture. They also presented a musical program of French songs where students participated in French sing-alongs and showed slides of different parts of France. At the end of the year, Le Cercle Francais held their annual picnic in Girard Park.

The German Club held monthly meetings to which they invited speakers from the surrounding areas. Fr. C. Zaunbrecher, a guest speaker, spoke to club members on Robert's Cove, a German colony in Louisiana. He also informed his audience of the origin and culture of the settlement. The German Club viewed a feature length film from the German Embassy.

The Spanish Club held a monthly program to aid in the students' practice of the language. The Spanish Club had entertainment in the form of group sing-alongs. They also showed slides and films concerning the Spanish culture.

USL Sweethearts Aided Other Organizations

The Sweethearts performed with the band at all the home football games and at home basketball games. They represented USL by performing at McNeese, the Circle K convention, and Casino Night in the Union, and by marching in the Homecoming parade and in out-of-town Mardi Gras parades. The Sweethearts also held a reception honoring their parents, supporters, and University dignitaries. Besides their regular practice and performance sessions, the Sweethearts, being a service organization, helped Circle K clean up Cypress Lake. They assisted the Veterans' Club in giving a Halloween party for the orphans. At the beginning of the fall semester, they helped Blue Key members give out ID's. The Sweethearts ushered for the Bayou Classic and assisted in the trampoline tournament held in Lafayette.

Young Activists Campaigned For Their Political Parties

The Campus Girl Scouts is a service organization, which provides service to the community, the Girl Scout Council, and the university. They led and assisted the Brownie, Junior, and Cadette troops from Hamilton Elementary School. They taught songs at the Bayou Girl Scout Council Congé and assisted Cadette Encampment by teaching canoeing, swimming, lashing, and fire building. Besides participating in the March of Dimes Walkathon, they worked with the SGA and Department of Environmental Affairs on campus beautification projects. The Girl Scouts held their annual campout and Christmas party.

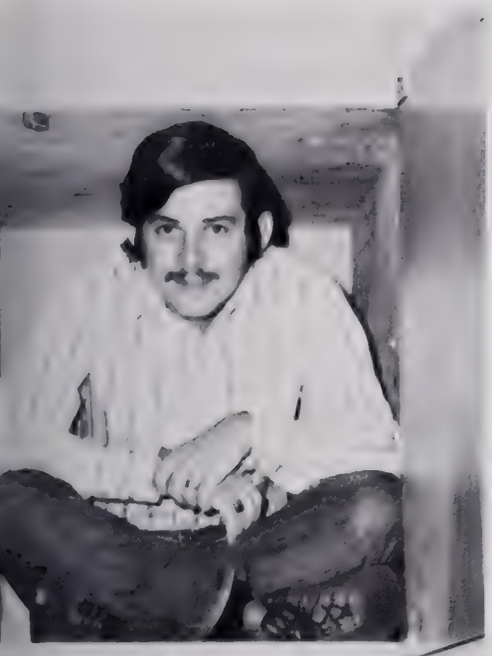

The Young Democrats campaigned for Democratic candidates running in the November presidential election and other local elections during the year. The Young Republicans campaigned for Republican candidates running in the elections by passing out campaign literature about their candidates and by talking to students about the promotion of the Republican Party.

Black Week Held at USL

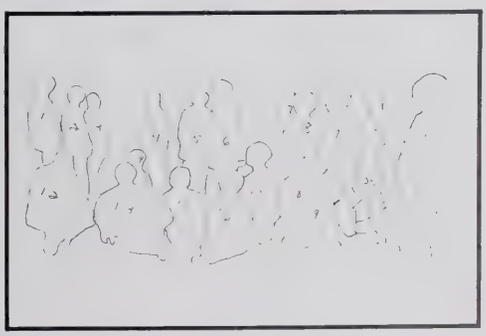

The Student Council for Exceptional Children is an organization made up of Special Education majors. SCEC did volunteer work with exceptional and other children helping and tutoring them. They held meetings and invited professors who spoke and showed films on emotionally disturbed children in classroom situations and invited speakers from a mental institution. The SCEC took field trips to clinics where they worked with exceptional children.

The Black Culture Association held a reception honoring Diana Donnell, Miss Black Louisiana. They sponsored Black Week. Black week, thematically called "Emphasis on Blacks," focused on the different aspects of black culture. Black Culture helped in the Sickle Cell Anemia Drive held in November. They collected money at football games, campus and street corners, and helped at the testing center for Sickle Cell Anemia. They collected baskets at Thanksgiving to be given to the poor and they worked at the detention home counseling boys.

The Association of Computing Machinery is an organization for the promotion of computing professionalism. They sponsored alumni meetings for former USL graduates in Computer Science. They held computer science classes at night for outstanding high school students interested in computer science. ACM tutored students in computer science, held a banquet for members and their spouses, and conducted tours of the computing center at USL for groups that were touring the campus.

Sailors Held Regatta

Veterans Club had a barbecue with the Lafayette Young Adult Group that works with juveniles. The Vets held Halloween and Christmas parties for the children at St. Mary's. The Club also participated in the homecoming parade and held a dance after the game. In order to raise money, the Vets sold Cajun license plates and forget-me-nots for the disabled veterans.

The Sailing Club offered an enjoyable escape to students. The team traveled to Texas, Florida, and New Orleans to attend regattas held by different colleges. The sailing club sponsored the Batson Regatta and the Southeastern Inter-collegiate Sailing Regatta which was held in mid-winter and attended by fourteen schools in the Gulf Coast Area.

Alpha Zeta Held Smoker

On October 25, 1972 Alpha Zeta, agriculture organization, held its first meeting of the new school year for new members. They were welcomed, tested, and assigned to "big brothers." Keith Chapman served the club as President.

Psi Chi, psychology honor organization, held a lecture session on the mystic on September 28, 1972. Speakers were Dr. Stallings and Dr. Kirkpatrick.

Sigma Alpha Eta, under the direction of its president, Alan Broussard, represented speech pathology and audiology in the annual Angel Flight Carnival. The group had several parties during the year and held its annual banquet in the spring.

Circle K

Circle K Has Busy Year

Circle K, under the direction of Paul Broussard, president, and Dean Guillory, advisor, carried out the '73 Circle K International theme "Reach Out" by involvement in such activities as Kangaroo Kourt, Cleanest City contest, March of Dimes, and collecting money for the Kidney Fund.

Circle K had a busy year with their Wednesday meetings, smokers at Girard Park for rush, and their tea to honor their nominees.

ΣΠΣ Held Academic And Recreational Activities

Sigma Pi Sigma, the USL physics honor organization, held a crawfish boil for members in the spring and sponsored physics day. The fraternity devoted part of their time for the presentation of lectures to high school science clubs. On the lighter side, the club held basketball games between its members and advisors. Monthly meetings were held with Brent Senette presiding as President.

Arnold Air Society, the honorary division of ROTC, worked with Angel Flight in their rush and also presented the annual military formal. It also participated in halftime shows at football games.

Pi Mu Epsilon, the mathematics honor organization, more than doubled its membership from last year. Nancy Daspit served as the president of the fraternity, and Conrad McKnight was the club's advisor.

Gail Gerdsen Was ROTC Sweetheart

Angel Flight again presented their Activities Carnival and co-hosted the annual spring military formal at which their sweetheart was selected. Gail Gerdsen was selected in the spring of 1972 and served through the following year.

Blue Key followed through with its main project of the year — the publication of a student directory. John Craton served the club as its leader with Janet Little as its "Darling."

Kappa Delta Pi represented the college of education. It helped the school during drop-add, and members served on various education committees and programs.

Tau Beta Pi Presents Awards

Tau Beta Pi is the engineering honor society which recognizes outstanding students in the college of engineering with 3.0 overall averages. It sponsors awards to students and faculty alike. Members also sponsor Engineering Awards Day where scholarships and awards are presented and the top graduates in college are recognized. A banquet was also held this year under the direction of President John Thibeaux.

Commerce Honor Clubs Held Fall Receptions

Omicron Delta Epsilon is the economics honorary organization. Being very selective, the club only allowed four members to join. The Commerce Honor Society recognizes scholastic excellence in all departments of the College of Commerce. Activities included several meetings throughout the year.

Alpha Beta tried to better its college of accounting by providing tutors for underachievers. They also helped the Accounting Forum sponsor a reception honoring accounting majors.

Actors Present One-Acts

Alpha Psi Omega, the national dramatics honorary fraternity, held two initiations of pledges during the year. The members helped to publicize tryouts and productions of the Speech Department. The fraternity also presented one-act plays at the High School Discussion Workshop in October, and at the Speech Festival during December.

Cited as the outstanding chapter in the province for the second time was Delta Epsilon chapter Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, national honor fraternity in music. The award carried with it a two-hundred dollar per year award good for a three-year period.

Sigma Alpha Iota, the female counterpart of Phi Mu Alpha, opened up its year with a banquet on September 23 and continued through the year joined in fellowship.

Dr. Rickles Headed Seminar

Rotaract's projects for the year included helping out with the Heart Fund drive, painting trash cans to be put on campus, visiting old folks' homes, baking and selling cakes for the benefit of the campus Day Care Center, and washing windows at the planetarium.

Sigma Delta Pi, Spanish honor society, really expanded in size this year. Its membership doubled from last year. It had members from all over the world.

The Honors seminar, under the direction of Dr. Pat Rickles and President, Ann Minter, was formed and held its meetings every Thursday at eleven o'clock. The club held a foosball tournament, of which its President came out victorious. A Halloween party was also held and an awards banquet in the spring.

Sigma Tau Delta Published Book

Again this year Sigma Tau Delta produced two literary magazines simply called "Book." The club also had speakers, one of whom presented a series of slides of crushed beer cans. Others showed films on the ability of people to communicate nonverbally. President of the club was Mike Durand, and Joan Sabia served as Vice-President and therefore editor of "Book."

Those in electrical engineering were the members of Eta Kappa Nu. The club initiated seven new members on January 26 and also held a banquet later in the semester.

Outstanding geology students were elected to Sigma Gamma Epsilon. Being strictly honorary, the fraternity's activities were limited to informal meetings.

ΑΦΩ Held Spring Cleanup Of Cypress Lake

Phi Eta Sigma, the honor society for freshman men, presented students with a pamphlet on how to study.

Delta Psi Kappa held several activities during the year, such as monthly meetings, and on October 24, these women Physical Education majors celebrated the anniversary of their organization. The members also decorated a Christmas tree for the womens' gym.

Alpha Phi Omegas constantly help the school, with their main activities of the year being their spring cleanup of Cypress Lake and the Christmas Tree placed there in December. Other activities included the sponsoring of a needy family in Lafayette and of an orphan, helping with an Easter Egg hunt at the orphanage, regional conferences and their traditional beer blast and barbecue.

Sigma Theta Held Initiation

On the evening of Monday, November 6, the USL chapter of Sigma Theta joined together for induction of new members. Sigma Theta, the honorary home economics club, operated under the direction of its president, Barbara Regan.

Vermilion Honor Society represented junior and senior women with high scholastic averages. Activities for the year included induction of new members, meetings, and helping with the distribution of the Blue Key student directory. Beth Butcher served as the club's president for the year.

Pi Tau Sigma honored the outstanding juniors and seniors in mechanical engineering who were in the top one-third of their class.

Through this darkened world, alas,
Once, and only once I pass.
If I may help a fellow man,
Let me do it while I can;
For, above all, one thing is plain:
I shall not pass this way again.

QUESTION: What do you get when you attempt to raise a yearbook from the depths of mediocrity?

ANSWER: You get:

* alienated Greeks who'd rather fight than switch
* sore feet from running to the Committee to get approval for practically everything
* higher blood pressure and lower grades
* a decrease in weight and an increase in paranoia
* a gradually increasing apathy as you realize how hard the fight for change has become
* a terminal case of self-pity, AND
* one hell of a lot of memories.

To those who helped me put this book together, I can only say thank you. Most of this book was done by our photographer, Mr. John Stephan, who could be counted on to help when we needed it. Our student photographers deserve their share of the credit — Richard Bienvenu and George Huber. Those faculty members who helped and encouraged us should be thanked, especially Miss Mamalakis, our advisor, and Dr. Harold Poe, former Communications Committee Chairman. Mr. Fred Elsing, Sr., certainly did his share as our publisher's representative.

But most of all, on behalf of the staff I'd like to thank our friend and former janitor, Buster. He was moved to Martin Hall, but at least now we know that we'll always have one friend over there, no matter what.

Now that this, the largest book in the state and in USL history has been completed, I hope you will permit me one last sign of relief. May I? "Aaaaaaaa-aaaaaaa
